Liner Seizure Described By U. S. Airmen

Korean Red Agents Fired Into Pilot's Section Of Aircraft

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The pilot's compartment was "filled with flying bullets" when Korean Communists seized their airliner, the American pilots related today.

"But everything happened so fast I was completely helpless," Willis P. Hobbs of Vallejo, Calif., a civilian, told a news conference. The Red agents grabbed the airliner flown by Hobbs and Air Force Lt. Col. Howard W. McClellan of Buchanan, Mich., on Feb. 16 and diverted it to North Korea off its regular flight from Pusan to Seoul. The Reds Thursday released the two Americans, a West German couple and 22 of the 30 Koreans aboard.

McClellan, in a statement to military investigators, said the plane was on automatic pilot when he heard a loud banging on the door leading from the passenger's compartment. Then bullets began flying through the cockpit, McClellan said in his statement. Hobbs reported hearing 8 to 10 shots as the two hugged the sides of the plane to get out of the line of fire.

"I grabbed the mike, planning to give a 'May Day' (emergency distress) call as the cockpit was literally filled with flying bullets," McClellan said. Hobbs yelled that the plane was still on automatic pilot so "I leaned across the floor into the path of the flying bullets and turned it off," the officer said. Then, said Hobbs, three armed Koreans broke into the compartment. One told him, "We go to North Korea."

Expert Asserts No Hoax Likely In 'Bottle Case'

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A Duke University psychologist who investigated the "bouncing bottle" case in Seaford, N. Y., said today he has all but ruled out the possibility of a hoax.

Members of the James Herrmann family during the past weeks have reported that bottles in their home bounce off their shelves, corks pop off, and figurines suddenly fly through the air—all without apparent reason. Dr. Gaither Pratt, assistant director of the Duke Parapsychology Laboratory, who visited the Herrmann home in Seaford recently, said if a hoax was involved it would have to involve all members of the family.

Educator Sees Long Battle To Gain Dixie Integration

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Southern educator suggested today it is going to take 25 to 50 years to accomplish general racial integration in the Deep South.

The long-run strategy might as well reckon with that situation, Dr. Guy Benton Johnson told the 110th annual conference of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House.

Dr. Johnson, sociology professor at the University of North Carolina and former executive director of the Southern Regional Council, said a net good had come from the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Failure Still Mystery

'Explorer' Exploded, Navy Readies Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A fiery death came to Explorer II, the Army's second space satellite, about 1,900 miles from home over the South Atlantic.

At Cape Canaveral, within sight of the vacant Jupiter-C pad where Explorer II left the earth Wednesday, is a Navy Vanguard rocket, ready to take off this week with its own pocket-sized satellite.

The Army, meanwhile, made plans for more satellites, but they may be bigger and better than the now dead Explorer II. It said it was building Explorer III and would launch it this spring.

Firing Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy postponed, at least temporarily, today's scheduled day-light firing of its satellite-carrying Vanguard rocket. It was due to finer technical difficulties.

The Vanguard had been scheduled to follow firing of the Army's Explorer II satellite. The Explorer II died a fiery death without going into orbit.

The blame for the failure of Explorer II was laid to the 50-pound rocket that carried the satellite as its pointed nose. This was the final stage of the Jupiter-C four-stage rocket system.

The final stage failed to fire—why scientists don't know and don't expect to find out. The satellite, lacking the added thrust, didn't get up anywhere near the gravity-defying speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

Scientists said it took a long time to find out what had happened to the satellite because of conflicting reports. They spent more than 24 hours evaluating the information that came back from the rocket.

When the 80-inch satellite and rocket assembly plummeted into the earth's atmosphere again, its speed and the friction of the earth's atmosphere created its own fiery destruction.

Queen Spurns Reunion With Shah, Divorce Set

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—Austrian sources said today that Queen Soraya has rejected every proposal to bring about a reconciliation between her and the Shah of Iran.

These sources said that unless Soraya changes her mind within the next few days, it is likely a divorce will be announced next week.

Pupil Proves Sport Minded

ST. JOHN, Kan. (AP)—A teacher gave her third-grade class a little quiz and asked them, among other things, to name the four seasons of the year.

Gandy Hobson put down on her paper: "Duck season, deer season, quail season and pheasant season."

Church Backs Group To End Cuban Strife

HAVANA (AP)—A "National Conciliation Committee" was set up last night with the backing of the Roman Catholic Church to work for peace in Cuba.

The committee, made up of two former vice presidents, a banker and a priest, said in a statement it plans to conduct "the necessary interviews with the government and with all the opposition groups to get their respective points of view."

The statement did not say whether talks were planned with Fidel Castro's rebels, whom President Fulbright Batista's government regards as outlaws rather than legitimate political opponents.

The two political figures on the conciliation committee are Dr. Gustavo Cuervo Rubio, vice president in Batista's first government, and Dr. Raul de Cardena, vice president under Ramon Grau San Martin. Grau is running against Batista's candidate in the June 1 presidential elections.

Stritch To Take Rome Post Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, says he will move to Rome, probably after Easter, to assume a high church office.

The cardinal has been appointed to membership in the Curia, the supreme governing body of Roman Catholicism under the Pope, the first American named to the post. He will be the new pro-pope of the Congregation of the Propagation of the Faith.

Cardinal Stritch said that the duties require his residence in Rome.

Grand Jury To Broaden FCC Probe

FBI Inquiry In Mack's Financial Deals Spurs Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department took steps today which could expand a federal grand jury investigation of the FCC into a full-scale probe of bribery, corruption and perjury of employees of all "federal departments or agencies."

The department filed "letters of authorization" in the Criminal Courts Office at the Federal District Court in Washington to summon additional witnesses in a grand jury investigation into testimony given before a House subcommittee hearing on the Federal Communications Commission.

Could Probe Any Agency The letters of authorization were worded in such a manner that they could open an inquiry into any federal agency or department.

The Justice Department also sought an order to impound financial records produced yesterday by Richard A. Mack, who resigned from the FCC Monday under fire.

The Justice Department spokesman said new witnesses who would be subpoenaed have not yet been heard by the House committee under Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.).

The "new facet" of the inquiry into the FCC was said to have no relation to the controversial Channel 10 case in Miami, which involved Whiteside and Mack.

The letters filed in court today authorized four attorneys from the Justice Department's Criminal Division to conduct the inquiry.

Claim Statutes Violated

The letters, identical for the four attorneys headed by Robert J. Rothstahl, said the Justice Department "is informed that various persons, companies, corporations and individuals have violated federal criminal statutes by 'giving money and things of value to officers and employees or persons acting for or on behalf' of the government."

The persons or companies, the department said operated "with the intention to influence them to commit or aid in committing or to collude in fraud . . . by accepting . . . money or gratuities while acting on behalf of the United States in an official capacity by making false, fictitious or fraudulent statements in matters of government."

Sarah's Brother Gets Irked Over TV Show Query

NEW YORK (AP)—Randolph Churchill exploded verbally last night on a television program when asked to discuss the drunkenness charge involving his actress sister Sarah in California.

Churchill, son of Sir Winston Churchill, appeared on the Ward program "Night Beat."

When asked about his sister, Churchill cut off John Wingate, who conducts the show, by saying: "I never discuss matters affecting members of my family with total strangers."

U. S. Studies Letter From Soviet Boss

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin, in a fourth message to President Eisenhower today for Soviet Premier Bulganin today for evidence that the Soviet Union may be prepared to modify its terms for setting up a summit conference.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials search through a new letter from Premier Bulganin today for evidence that the Soviet Union may be prepared to modify its terms for setting up a summit conference.

An earlier exchange of notes published by the State Department showed Washington and Moscow tightly docketed.

Officials said that on the basis of this exchange it was extremely difficult to see how any real problems could be solved in a summit meeting.

The new Bulganin message to President Eisenhower, delivered by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, was still to be analyzed when this estimate was made. The initial impression was that it left the basic Soviet position unchanged.

The notes published by the State Department consisted of a memorandum from Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and a U.S. reply. In the Gromyko note, the Soviet government agreed to a preparatory foreign ministers' meeting provided it was limited to discussing the time, place and participants of a summit conference and fixing the topics to be discussed there.

The United States reply insisted that the Soviet agreement "falls short" of providing for the careful and detailed preparation necessary before a summit conference can be arranged.

Italy To Receive Tobacco, Cotton

ROME (AP)—Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella and U.S. Ambassador J. D. Zellerbach today signed an agreement for sale of 25 million dollars worth of surplus American farm commodities to Italy.

Cotton and tobacco are the chief items.

Most of the proceeds will be loaned back to the Italian government for economic development, bringing the total of such loans to Italy to 100 million dollars.

Near Normal Weather Due

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Generally fair, with some rain likely about Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will average around one-fourth to one-half inch and temperatures will average near normal.

Rather cold over the weekend with a warming trend Monday through Wednesday.

Solons Press Program For Recession End

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic senators pushed ahead today their efforts to develop an anti-recession program including public works, tax cuts, housing and highways.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted the Senate would pass, probably Tuesday, a housing bill he said would produce at least 200,000 more homes this year than under present programs.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said he was confident the Public Works Committee would approve by Thursday his bill to speed up the already large federal highway program.

There also was a good chance of action on two resolutions which Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) introduced. Forty-seven Democrats and six Republicans joined in sponsoring the resolutions, designed to prod the Eisenhower administration into stepped-up spending on military and civil public works projects.

Soldiers Facing Trial In Youth Cruelty Charges

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Army today formally charged two officers and a sergeant with mistreating a Korean boy who was beaten, tarred and put into a small, half-stuffed box after he was caught stealing.

The boy, 14-year-old Kim Choon II, was discovered whimpering in the box Feb. 25 after being flown in a helicopter from the Ascom maintenance center, where he was caught, to Uijongbu 25 miles away.

The incident raised a storm of protest in South Korea.

Union Plan Gets Aired At Hearing

UAW Asks Solons Arbitrate Lengthy Wisconsin Walkout

By ROBERT E. THOMPSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kohler Company today rejected a United Automobile Workers proposal that their bitter four-year labor dispute be arbitrated by Senate rackets probers or negotiators appointed by President Eisenhower.

UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey made the extraordinary suggestion as the rackets committee continued its explosive investigation of the strike which began in April, 1954.

Kohler Company Attorney Lyman C. Conger said the bathroom fixture manufacturing firm could not accept "compulsory arbitration" because he doubted that Washington officials "have too much knowledge about making bathtubs."

Three Praise Plan Conger maintained the Kohler Co. and not federal arbitrators must make the final decision as to what goes into its labor contracts.

Three committee members, Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Irving Ives (R-N.Y.), and Patrick McNamara (D-Mich.), praised the UAW plan.

Kennedy, who had demanded that Conger state whether the firm would accept or reject the offer, said it "would be beneficial . . . if this very bitter struggle should be brought to an end."

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) pointed out that arbitration is outside the committee's jurisdiction.

But, McClellan added: "If two or more members of the committee want to serve in a voluntary capacity, that is all right. . . I wouldn't refuse to serve if I could make a contribution . . . but not as a member of this committee."

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said he was opposed to the plan, and contended that the UAW itself has "fought violently against this procedure."

Mazey replied that the UAW has offered to arbitrate in previous labor disputes, but has not been successful in these attempts.

Mazey said he was speaking for UAW President Walter Reuther and he assumed for the officers and members of Sheboygan, Wis., Local 833, in making the offer.

Mazey said the UAW would accept arbitration of the Sheboygan strike by:

Eisenhower-appointed negotiators, the committee, a subcommittee.

Road Inspector Gets Run Over, Then Has Encore

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—George Chabnell, 45, a Highway Department inspector, was painting engineering markers on Ohio's 75 near Pedro.

A truck driven by Ernie Farrow hit Chabnell, knocking him down. A wheel rolled over both Chabnell's legs just below the knees. Another worker yelled at the driver. Farrow backed the truck up hurriedly and the vehicle again ran over Chabnell's legs.

Chabnell suffered only severe cuts and bruises.

Grain Futures Lower

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grain futures were slightly lower at the opening of the Board of Trade today.

British Labor Loses Efforts To Stop Tests

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Conservative government stood firm last night against new Labor party demands for an end to nuclear tests and a suspension of H-bomb air patrols over the British Isles.

In a joint declaration, the Labor party and the eight-million-member Trades Union Congress also appealed for a delay in building American rocket bases in Britain until there is another attempt to negotiate a disarmament agreement with Soviet leaders.

This statement, which will be backed up by a nationwide campaign, presumably would be one of the guiding factors in Labor party policy if it returns to power. The declaration did not, however, include an appeal for Britain to disarm by herself, as urged by a left-wing Laborite group, known as Victory for Socialism.

In Parliament, Prime Minister Macmillan told Labor party leaders that a one-sided halt of nuclear tests in order to create a favorable climate for talks with Russia would be "bad diplomacy and bad psychology."

Earl Selkirk, first lord of the admiralty, turned down the Laborite demands for delaying rocket base construction until a summit conference because "no one knows when or if these (talks) will take place."

Mayor Plans Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Employer and union representatives today await the arrival of Mayor Robert F. Wagner as the nine-state strike of garment workers continued.

Wagner, vacationing in the Bahamas, sent word at the start of the walkout on Wednesday he would return and call for marathon negotiations if the strike lasted more than 48 hours.

Exploratory talks yesterday got nowhere. An official of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union said the strike may last more than a week.

Affected are a total of 105,000 dressmakers—60,000 in New York City.

Vaccine For Treating Some Cancers Seen As 'Possible'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today some of its researchers had uncovered evidence "that could point the way toward development of a vaccine for treatment of some types of cancer."

The announcement indicated, however, that there is no certainty of such a development. It said studies are being continued in the hope of discovering an anticancer weapon of that type.

The VA said the work is being done by doctors at its hospital in McKinney, Tex. It quoted Dr. Russell H. Wilson of that hospital as saying the research "indicates the existence of a natural defense mechanism of the body against cancer, the same type of body reaction which makes vaccine against polio and other diseases possible."

The announcement said findings indicate that, under certain circumstances, products from cancer cells may cause the body to produce substances—perhaps antibodies—which may travel through the blood stream and attack the cancer cells.

Dr. Wilson said the researchers are pursuing these findings in the hope of discovering a way to activate this reaction to an extent that would be useful in destroying some types of malignant growth, the VA said.

Nuclear Rocket Test Site Opens

AEC Explains Project Planned At Jackass Flats

By RALPH DIGHTON
ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—

One day this fall a railway car will back up to a concrete house on Jackass Flats and deliver the kick of a million miles.

On the railway car will be a nuclear reactor which is a device for making an atomic bomb go.

Robert Campbell of the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory, resident director of the 10-million-dollar rocket project, explained how the testing will be Energy Commission scientists conducted. First the scientists will design an atomic reactor which will heat some fluid such as liquid hydrogen and eject it at high velocity.

The reactor will be assembled at a building called the "Mad House." The "mad" stands for mechanical assembly and disassembly.

From the "Mad House" a remote controlled railway car will carry it to the test cell where it will be connected to instruments inside the cell. Then will come the firing, releasing a virtually inexhaustible supply of power.

Today's rockets and missiles are built in numerous sections or stages which are fired at progressive altitudes. No one stage has yet been made which will carry a rocket as far as man wants it to go.

The liquid and solid propellant rockets of today burn out in a few minutes. Tomorrow's nuclear rockets can go for years without running out of fuel.

McDonald Case Centers On Death Threat Report

CINCINNATI—Now the report of a death threat has entered into the confusing Marie McDonald kidnap case.

Los Angeles officers said here last night the curvaceous 34-year-old screen actress told them her claim Wednesday that her estranged husband, millionaire Harry Karl, engineered the kidnapping came after she had received an anonymous telephone call. She said it was from a man who referred to the kidnapping and threatened her life.

After a long questioning period, Los Angeles Detective Lt. Herman Zander said Miss McDonald's charges against her husband "appear to be consistent" with her first story of the kidnapping.

It was a little more than a year ago that the blonde Miss McDonald reported she had been kidnapped by two men, held captive for 24 hours and then released on the desert 150 miles from her home, Encino, Calif.

A grand jury investigation at both Karl and Miss McDonald to which Miss McDonald testified take lie detector tests.

HELD IN FATAL BEATING — Benny L. Daniels, left, follows deputy sheriff into Justice of the Peace Court in Amarillo, Texas, where he was charged with fatal beating of his fiancée, Thelda Cobb, 24. Witness Says He Was Asked To Leave City

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—A witness at the drunk-driving trial of Marjorie Durant Waller says the actress and heiress suggested he leave town "until this all blows over."

Jack Merritt, a coffee salesman, testified yesterday.

"She suggested I go away for a couple weeks—Vegas or somewhere—until this all blows over," he said.

"I told her I had a job and I wouldn't go away. I said that, if what I testified hurt her, or if it hurt the police, I was sorry."

Merritt works in a plant at the scene of her arrest last Jan. 13. He said he saw the 28-year-old blonde, wife of Los Angeles Rams halfback Ron Waller and heiress to the Post cereal fortune, about 45 minutes after police stopped her sports car.

Nasser Opens His Drive For Arab East Mastery

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Gamal Abdel Nasser has opened his battle for complete mastery of the Arab East.

Charges that King Saud of Saudi Arabia plotted against Nasser and his United Arab Republic — and the manner in which the charges were made—indicate there will be no quarter given and none expected in this developing war between two sets of Arab rulers.

The instrument for Nasser's initial attack was Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, the Syrian army's young, bulky, blue-jawed chief of intelligence, who claims he was offered a huge bribe to see to it that Nasser died in an attack on his plane.

The charges are fantastic. It is asking the outside world to swallow a great deal to suppose that so shrewd a leader as Saud would attempt to subvert Serraj, of all people. Serraj is known throughout the Arab East for his fanatical devotion to Nasser and the extremes of Arab nationalism.

It hardly matters whether a plot existed or not. (Saudi Arabia rejected the charges.) The point is that Nasser's propaganda machine, now dovetailed with that of the Syrians in the new United Arab Republic, has opened the most dangerous of attacks on its foes in the Arab East—the rulers of Jordan, Iraq and Saudi Arabia. All three stand in the way of Nasser's vaulting ambitions.

The attack is a daring one in a place like the Arab East. Saud is custodian of the two holiest shrines of Islam, Mecca and Medina, and as such has claim to being the spiritual leader of all Arab Moslems.

jurisdiction of departments or agencies of the United States."

The authorizing letter also charged the "parties unknown" with "obstructing justice by committing perjury and by conspiring so to do."

The grand jury had originally been called to secure records of Whiteside involving all his financial dealings with Mack. It opened its inquiry yesterday with a two-hour interrogation of Whiteside and Charles A. Sheldon, secretary treasurer of an inactive holding company in which Mack was given an interest by Whiteside.

Sheldon was to return this afternoon to continue the secret testimony before the grand jury. The Justice Department had said originally the grand jury was called to allow the FBI access to the Whiteside records. However, the first day's session of the grand jury set off speculation that the grand jury had decided to expand the original scope.

mittee, or any group of individuals named by the committee, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Mediation Service, or Secretary of Labor James Mitchell or anyone appointed by him.

The UAW spokesman told the committee that the company has refused all previous attempts to mediate, including offers made by Ives, McNamara and clergymen of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

Ives said he "got absolutely no response from the company" for his and McNamara's previous offer to help settle the matter, although the union was "very responsive."

McNamara, a former official of the Pipefitters Union, said: "This is a statesmanship approach to a solution for a bad situation... if I can make such a contribution, I will."

Conger demanded to know whether the committee would "lose interest" in its probe if the matter were settled by arbitration.

He said: "There are a lot of fine American citizens out here that have been deprived of their rights for many months... now that this is coming to the attention of the American public, it is too late to sweep the dirt under the table."

The company spokesman maintained, however, that Kohler has never refused to mediate.

Conger said the company is willing to sit down anytime with the Federal Mediation Service or any other mediation group.

Sen. Kennedy finally demanded to know whether Conger's answer to the Mazzy proposal was "No."

Conger replied: "The answer to compulsory arbitration on the terms of the contract, that would be 'No.'"

McClellan said one Korean pulled out the microphone cords. Hobbs said one of the intruders stood behind "with a gun pointed right at my head."

The Koreans looked like they were determined to succeed in taking the plane or die in the attempt, McClellan said.

The agents were uncertain where to land when they were over North Korea. They finally asked Hobbs if planes on a field 15 miles north of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, were U.S. Air Force planes. Hobbs said they were Russian.

The agent pointed the gun at his head and said: "If U. S. Air Force—bang!"

The plane's occupants were taken to Pyongyang where Hobbs and McClellan were questioned for more than two days. Hobbs said he was asked general questions. But he said McClellan, who was wearing his U. S. Air Force uniform, appeared to have undergone more severe interrogation and seemed "quite shaken up."

"The ordeal was the most trying I have ever undergone in my life," McClellan said.

"I Gave In . . . And I'm So Glad"

I goggled at a magazine
Devoted to the fashion scene.
The fashion scene was wild and weird,
And creepier than I had feared.

I gazed at gowns that looked like slips,
At waistlines down around the hips;
At clothes that fit like BVD's,
And gripped like vises at the knees.

I did not like "The Easy Fit"
One single, solitary bit.
I swore I'd sooner eat my hat
Than wear a goofy dress like THAT!

Why on earth should I spend money
Just to make myself look funny?
Clothes are meant to gild the lily,
Not to make the lily silly!

But, even as I swore, I knew,
Just exactly what I'd do:
Alas, alack, I'd have to say
I'll buy myself a chemise one day.

Though I blow a fuse at first,
And class the newest styles the worst
Why gradually, by hook or croak,
I learn to like the latest look.

When first I looked upon a sheath,
I moaned and raged and gnashed my teeth,
And swore that I would eat my hat
Before I'd wear a dress like THAT!

A month ago, I did firmly swear
That I would never, never wear
A chemise or any other shapeless dress . . .
You know what happened . . . you can guess:

I just came back from a shopping spree
And guess what I've got with me —
Not one chemise that's fashion right
But three — that make my old clothes look tight.

I GAVE IN — AND I'M SO GLAD
'CAUSE IT'S REAL FASHION — NOT JUST A FAD!

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Sharp Criticism

THE HEADLINES are going to startling disclosures of pressure and influence, as Congress pushes its inquiry into the FCC and other regulatory agencies. This is as it should be. But other parts of the story are almost equally astonishing, and deserve the lawmakers' fullest attention. Few people in the country are as well informed of the practices and procedures of the FCC and other commissions as are the lawyers who handle the cases that come before them. It is their overwhelming conviction that the agencies generally do a very bad job. In a survey, the New York Times queried many lawyers experienced in commission practice, including some who have won their cases, some who have lost, and some who are reputed to have strong "political pull." They all deplored FCC and other agency operations.

THEIR CRITICISMS boil down to these points: The business of allotting new television channels can take from two to five years to decide, depending on whether or not the matter gets into the courts. The cost of this drawn-out procedure can be immense. Some estimate the total cost for all applicants in certain big cases ranges from $500,000 to $1,000,000. This has nothing to do with actually fitting out a TV station, but simply concerns application for a channel. In the long hearings preliminary to decision, a commission examiner piles up mountains of testimony. But the lawyers say the commissioners, who make the final decision, have little regard for the examiner's recommendations and almost never look at the record amassed at such cost in money and time. The commissioners do not write their own opinions. They decide which applicant they favor, and then a staff of opinion writers develops the reasoning to support their choice.

IT'S AS IF ONE judge heard the testimony, another made the decision, and a third wrote the opinion. In the lawyers' view, this separation of function makes for arbitrariness, opens the way for influence to be exercised upon the commissioners, and is basically a fraudulent procedure. Even the standards the commissioners do try to apply in weighing applicants seem built on sand. For a winning applicant, who may have gained the verdict narrowly over another in a three-year contest, can sell out in a few months to a totally different outfit that meets only minimum legal and technical requirements. It happens many times. It begins to look as if the FCC—and any other agencies which follow similar procedures in allotting licenses or routes or determining rates—need an exhaustive overhauling from top to bottom. The glaring headlines would appear only to underscore this need.

Realistic Report

THE ROCKEFELLER report on the problems of U. E. defense is now available in an inexpensive paperback edition. Every American citizen who wishes can procure and read this report. Any citizen would profit by doing so. The report is concise, well thought out, a most serious and responsible document. Far from being a scare report, it is a careful attempt to view the present strategic position of the United States in a clear perspective and to bring a spirit of realism into the study of our most vital problems. Anyone carefully reading this report can gain in orientation and view events from a more solid intellectual framework than many Americans as yet possess. It is because of a lack of orientation and perspective that many are more bewildered than they need be. Agree or disagree with the conclusions of this report, you will learn by reading it. The report states in its conclusion: "What is required throughout the country is an attitude of sustained and informed determination." The authors conscientiously explain why they consider this conclusion to be sound. Their explanation should be mulled over by all thoughtful citizens.

EVEN IF THE four-day week becomes a reality, a lot of men will find some other way of spending the time away from home.

Arrogant Sales Gals Can Ruin Business

NEW YORK — This week, in a fancy Fifth Avenue department store, I saw a woman turn away stiffly from an imperious sales lady in the better dress department. She was furious and she was hurt.

"I may not be a New Yorker," she muttered between her teeth, "but I'll bet my money's just as good as theirs is."

The woman, probably a Midwesterner and possibly a most wealthy and social one, had had a brush with a strangely officious sales technique which occasionally is observed in the swishier salons about town.

SHE WAS QUIET correct in being indignant. The only place where she erred was in suggesting that it was because she came from out of town that the sales woman offered her the supercilious attitude. As a long-term New Yorker, I think I can say that it makes absolutely no difference where your bank account or credit originates.

There are certain departments (let's call this one the "plush room") in certain shops where any customer who does not have a full-length mutation mink is likely to be eyed coolly.

WHERE, SHOULD the customer hesitate between a $500 frock and a quiet little $200 number, the salesgirl employs a quite unnerving and belittling technique: urging that she take the "inexpensive" dress, with the patronizing implication that perhaps this shop is just a bit too "good" for her.

"I refuse to be 'embarrassed' into buying anything," said the Midwestern woman as she walked out. The clerk merely shrugged.

NOW, AS A loyal New Yorker without a mink, I have deplored this occasional shopping snag as one flaw in an otherwise exhilarating city of bargains and beauty. Today, thanks to a nationwide survey, I learned that similar problems exist everywhere; my town's more diffident clerks are not necessarily more diffident than Kansas City's.

The "tele-sell" people, who this week started a closed circuit TV program to teach sales personnel how to keep customers happily buying, sent out questionnaires to women's editors in 49 cities.

THEY discovered that 63 per cent of the editors found department store salesmanship not on the whole satisfactory. Seventy-five per cent of the editors believed that the quality of sales approaches has diminished in the past ten years.

They stressed "indifference" and "complete lack of interest and courtesy" as prime negatives in the shopping picture. One Southwestern editor even wrote, "There is no good feature in the stores here. The indifference is amazing and unbelievable."

"I've had clerks make insulting remarks because I didn't buy so I never shop there now," was one more comment, still another: "I waited for a salesgirl to complete a conversation with another salesgirl until I got tired and left."

OF COURSE, in women's wear, as in westerns, there are good gals and bad gals, and from coast to coast, the rights far outnumber the wrongs. But it's the unfortunate experiences which the lady editors remember most clearly — and I hope the television teachers will urge their students to keep the longnette inflection out of their voices.

Under the bill of rights, the customer should be treated as an equal.

Demos Grab Ball, Head For Vote-Time Goal

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "We are heading into another do-nothing session of Congress," says one Republican leader, off the record. "I have never seen politics being played harder or worse," says another.

Principal complaint of the Republicans is that with the Democrats in control of all congressional committees, the minority can't find out from the majority what the year's legislative program will be.

Two months of the present session of Congress are now down the drain. There are only four or five months to go if the Congress is to adjourn early for fall elections.

So far fewer than 20 public laws have been passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

They cover principally three supplemental appropriation bills, five technical tax law amendments and such things as renaming a couple of dams, authorization for the President to issue an Oregon statehood centennial proclamation and approval for a Fort Myer, Va., monument to commemorate the first airplane flight on an Army installation.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's legislative program of nearly 100 specific recommendations has been almost completely lost sight of.

These recommendations were contained in the President's state of the union, budget, economic, education, farm, labor, foreign trade, foreign aid and other special messages.

Congress is now pursuing a completely independent course and taking its time in shaping the program it will enact this year.

Only one clue has been given so far on what the principal items on this Democratic program will be. At the $100-a-plate Democratic dinner in Washington, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson named 10 subjects to which Congress would give priority.

Johnson's list was largely overlooked because ex-President Truman was principal speaker at this affair. Harry's polite remarks made livelier listening and more memorable reading.

Senator Johnson's 10-point program wasn't too specific, either. He just mentioned the fields in which there would be action, without saying what the legislation would contain.

PRINCIPAL reason for this was that congressional committees are still holding hearings on most of these subjects. On some they haven't even started. Johnson didn't want to give the impression he was dictating to Congress on what laws to write.

But this was his list, with brief, informed comments added to indicate the scope of what may eventually come out.

Housing — Senator Sparkman, already introduced this first bill, going way beyond administration proposals.

Education — It will probably include something for primary, secondary, college and university training and facilities.

Agriculture — It will be a congressional farm bill, ignoring many Benson recommendations, even if the President vetoes it. Labor — Protection of workers against racketeers. Credit Relief — Particularly help for small business.

PUBLIC WORKS — Make sure there is an adequate shelf of fully planned projects ready for instant starts to curb recession. Conservation — More starts on reclamation projects.

Foreign Aid and Trade — "Constructive action." This probably means a one or two-year limited extension.

Defense — Strengthening the armed forces with some limited reorganization in the Pentagon possible.

Outer Space — Basic legislation to insure that the United States will have first place in future developments.

The principal importance of the Johnson list is that it indicates the Democrats will try to enact a program which they can present to the country in November as strictly their own. Any resemblance to White House recommendations will be purely coincidental.

TO FORM COMPANY — A meeting of residents in LaVale, living between Narrows Park and Cash Valley, will be held Thursday night in LaVale Inn for the purpose of organizing Citizens' Volunteer Fire Company 2. R. J. Snyder will act as temporary chairman, and officers will be elected.

BILL REJECTED — The House in Annapolis today rejected the bill prohibiting the sale of black bass on markets of Maryland. The House also adopted a favorable report on a proposal to reduce the rate of interest on petty loans from 3½ to 2 per cent per month.

RECORDS REVISED — Randolph T. Wisniewski, commissioner of water and electric lights, advised Mayor George Henderson and Council that the entire water records system has been revised and records are now kept in triplicate: one copy retained by the Water Department, one by the tax collector and the other by the city auditor. This method, it is believed, will provide an absolute on all payments.

BARTON INCORPORATED — In the House at Annapolis last night, a bill to incorporate the Town of Barton was passed. Another bill permitting ballots to be counted when the marks of the cross extend beyond the sides of the square opposite the name of a candidate passed the House today. The bill applies to the whole state, and now goes to the Senate.

NO FIRE PROTECTION — There is no fire protection in Piedmont, and Westernport is as badly off. The little house on hand in Piedmont won't fit the fire plugs in Westernport, and fire insurance companies have both towns on the extra hazardous list.

Whitney Bolton Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — The triteness of death is that still living tongues. Among the useful precepts which we learn from childhood is that we never must speak ill of the dead. I never believed in it. If a man was a scourge to his times and a blight on his kind, there seems no reasonable justification for pretending he was otherwise.

A man I called a friend is dead on the West Coast, dead and buried. I truly called him a friend. I hope he thought of me as one. He fired me out of his studio one day, but in his philosophy, he had no other choice. I have told the story to perhaps 100 persons — and of that number not one agreed that he was right. But I do, and did.

THE MAN WAS Harry Cohn, and this column about him began as it did because I am sure that there are people in Hollywood today using harsh words and unpleasant phrases about Harry Cohn. The difference between them and me is not that I am unacquainted with such words or phrases but that I have no compulsion, or even mild wish, to use them.

In our three years together, six days a week, sometimes even seven, Harry Cohn and I hurled harsh words where it counted as among men: at each other in each other's presence. I took a job with him that led to bells in Hollywood: I wouldn't last 60, 90 or 180 days. I lasted three years, and I have pride in it.

In that time we saw things from different points of view constantly. But neither of us pulled punches nor pretended otherwise. And when the harsh words died down and the plain talk was no longer needed because we had arrived by violence at a mutual opinion, we shook hands and went about our business.

THERE CAME, possibly inevitably, the day when we did not arrive at a mutual point of view and that did it. He said I'd better look for another job. He suggested staying around until I found one. I was around for nine days and left. It was 39 days later before I found out that Harry Cohn spent valuable hours during each of those days trying to get a job for me — and threatening, mayhem to anyone who ever told me. To this day I do not know for certain whether the job I finally got was by my own doing or his. I like to think it was mine.

I KNOW THAT the Hollywood

No Baths For Cameleers

WASHINGTON — Probably I'm prejudiced, but I'm in favor of Egyptian camel drivers taking baths. Even if I must help pay for their bathbaths.

Once I rented for my bride and myself from an Egyptian camel driver named Ahmed a pair of camels for a short trip across the burning sands. The camels were handsome beasts with creamy-colored coats which they kept that way by wallowing at every opportunity in the desert. Poor old Ahmed never got to wallow anywhere.

We might as well be frank about it; he needed a bath. I trust now that, thanks to the Mutual Security Program's bathbaths, Ahmed is as well-scrubbed as his camels, but I don't see why. International Cooperation Administration Director James H. Smith Jr. should feel apologetic, about it.

WHAT happened to Director Smith was a list of 73 questions shot at him by the House Foreign Affairs Committee concerning alleged waste in far places of the taxpayers' money. These concerned, among other things, tubs for Egyptian cameleers, dress suits for Greek undertakers, and free refrigerators for Eskimos.

Here under the crystal chandeliers of the foreign affairs experts was the sandy-haired Smith to explain. He said the ICA never did buy any bathbaths for Egyptian camel drivers as such.

Smith said that our government did join in a campaign to eradicate bilharzia, a form of hookworm, in Egypt, and to that end established bathhouses along the Nile. These were for Egyptians in general, and if camel drivers cared to use their facilities, they were welcome. Fair enough.

THE SOLONS wondered also byways are thick with men who disliked him and feared him and barked, as little men do, about him. I doubt that his funeral has stilled their yapping. He was that fading American — the rugged individualist.

He had a motion picture studio with stockholders, but he ran it Harry Cohn's way — by himself and under his steam. Except once, and I don't think until now the stockholders ever knew it.

It was during World War II and a group of California ladies had hornswoggled several major studios into turning over to them for war work the entire proceeds of the first public showing of several important films. They came, ultimately, to Harry Cohn. He listened to them and when they finished, he looked fiercely at them and said: "No."

"BUT, MR. COHN," one exclaimed, "you cannot do this to..."

"I can and I do," he said. "But you are so dismayed you don't let me finish. I cannot guide other studio men. I guide myself. I do not own this picture you want for free. My stockholders own it. I have no legal right to give you, for however laudable a purpose, a sum of money belonging to my stockholders. What do you usually clear on such a night?"

"About $10,000," the woman said.

Harry Cohn reached into his desk, took out a checkbook and made out a check to the group for $10,000.

"I give you this from my own funds," he said. "But I tell you I think you are dead wrong to wheedle films and money from corporations with stockholders."

I KNOW THIS because I was there. In the room, I have never forgotten it.

I can cite a hundred, perhaps a thousand, such deeds by Harry Cohn. Also, I can cite what seems to be quixotic attitudes. He waited a long time for children, for heirs. Finally, his first son was born. We were alone in his office late one night and he told me of his joy and pride. Suddenly, he looked fierce, the Harry Cohn look.

"If anything ever happens to this child, if it should die," he growled, "don't come to me and offer sympathy. I'd punch you right in the nose. I'll handle my own grief."

And I'll handle mine, equally genuine, for Harry Cohn.

Hal Boyle Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Recently I received a mysterious anonymous card in the mail.

On the cover it said, "Every year you're getting closer" and when I opened the card it said inside: "To being a dirty old man."

Well, I had to chuckle. After all, a fellow can't very well break down and cry just because it's his 47th birthday.

When you get right down to it, any amateur at living can survive to 40 or even forty-five. If you can go on after that, it's no longer a matter of mere luck. You're a real pro — you've learned the trick of how to keep breathing regularly.

If life is like climbing a mountain, at 47 you get an unexpected reward. You break through the storm clouds of early middle age, and find yourself on the edge of a sunny upper plateau.

WHEN YOU GO TO your doctor, you no longer get angry because he doesn't listen to you when you tell him your symptoms.

Philosophically, you realize that he now knows what you know, too — that these are the symptoms you are going to have to put up with all the rest of the journey.

It amuses you that young folks now begin to confide their love troubles to you. You don't even mind that they do so because they think of you as they do an elderly turtle — something ancient and wise and foreign to earthly passion.

You have become a bit like a tree, which each year has a ring of growth, an interior calendar of its own.

With every passing season the old scars inside you lose their power to hurt. You become even proud of some of the scars, and glad they no longer show.

AT 47 THE BIG important things loom smaller and the smaller things get more important. You don't expect to solve a major problem every morning.

A pleasant meal, an unexpected visit from an old friend, a $5 tax refund by the government — these are enough to make a day memorable.

The devil calls you less, and you wonder about God more. You'd rather dream about your youth than how to make a million dollars.

You become intensely aware of nature again. You see every raindrop as it falls, each snowflake has its own face, and a beautiful sunset stirs you more than it did when you were twenty.

But you can look up at a full moon and laugh at the fool it used to make of you. It never will have that mystic power to undo you again.

And at 47 your marriage reaps an unexpected boon. Your wife treats you with a new respect, brings you your slippers when you come home, gets out of your easy chair herself and lets you sit in it.

She is (terribly, terribly) grateful to you merely because, at 47, you haven't died and left her a widow.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks submits that inflation is not as modern Republican as some administration critics would have you believe. He has just unearthed an old family diary which shows it cost a pillar of the federal government more to get to Washington in 1831 than it does in 1958.

The author of the wincey record was a great-great-uncle, John Wingate Weeks, who served two terms in Congress, from 1829 to 1833.

It took Rep. Weeks 10 days, by stage and boat, to make the trip, and cost him $4.33. The Secretary of Commerce now makes the trip, nearly every other week, in three-and-a-half hours, at cost of $34.87.

Of course, the current Weeks does not stop off at Lincoln, Plymouth, Concord, Nashua, Boston, Worcester, Middletown, New Haven, New York, New Brunswick, N. J., Philadelphia, and Baltimore, to belt down nearly a dollar's worth of booze. Nor is his charitable heart so wrung that he bestows seven cents upon a "poor boy" and another twelve cents upon a "poor girl."

THE SECRETARY OF Commerce found the ancient diary in a storeroom in the old Weeks place and was kind enough to turn it over to me. He said he believed it was just the proof needed to reassure Americans, particularly inflation-fearing Congressmen, how much farther their money takes them today.

When his great-great-uncle was serving the people, Members of Congress were paid $8 a day for every day Congress was actually in session as opposed to a flat $22,500 a year now. A Congressman was lucky if he totaled $1,000 a year. It cost old John Wingate Weeks $1,176.28 to maintain himself in Washington for the first session of the 22nd Congress, which lasted from December 5, 1831 to July 16, 1832.

THERE ARE A few items in his accounts that are something short of self-explanatory. Take for instance, these: "For slave's freedom $1." And "Siamese Twins 25 cents." Today, few members of Congress are ever called upon to spend their own money on either slaves or Siamese twins.

Rep. Weeks paid $6.19 for "blackening boots." Were he in Congress today he could get his shoes shined in the House barbershop for 15 cents.

As further proof of the runaway inflation of the times, he paid $15 for a shawl for himself. A Congressman today would think twice before wearing a shawl that cost anything like that.

In his accounts, Rep. Weeks entered $23.75 for lottery tickets. Any Congressman who admitted risking money like that nowadays would probably be investigated.

In one respect, the old gentleman professed to feel the same about Washington as many do today. He wrote Gov. J. W. Williams of New Hampshire rather ungrammatically:

"Any honest man is to be pitied whose service is required in that fountain of corruption, 'Washington City,' it's name should be changed to Babylon."

So They Say

We have entered an era when we (the U.S.) shall have to depend on other countries for some of the most important of the raw materials on which our industry feeds. . . . I think we should re-examine our scheme of import restrictions in the light of our changing raw material status.

Scholarship Committee Named By NSA

At its monthly dinner-meeting Monday night at Central Y.M.C.A., Algonquin Chapter, NSA, introduced two guests and officers and committee chairmen. They were reminded that their yearly reports will be due April 15. Mrs. Reba Whitehair presided. The guests were Mrs. Mary Swann, of the Howard M. Spiker Real Estate and Insurance and Miss Patricia Northcraft, of the Carl F. Schmutz Associates, Inc.

The names of the Scholarship Committee for 1958 were announced. Miss Garnett Fazenbaker is chairman, with Miss Wilma Chenoweth, Miss Kathleen Baron and Miss Kathryn Wilson, members.

Mrs. Whitehair urged the committee to do everything possible to impress upon all girl graduates in the county and Ridgely the advantage afforded by this opportunity. There is a great demand for secretaries. The chapter board meeting will be held on March 25, at Miss Joy Jackman's home, 531 Patterson Avenue. All ways and means committee members are to attend.

Miss Ellen Newnam, chairman of the decorating committee for the annual dance April 25, will have a meeting of her committee

Events Briefly Noted

The regular meeting of the Order For Rainbow For Girls will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at Masonic Temple. Members are to wear street clothes.

Centre Street Parent - Child study group scheduled for Tuesday has been cancelled for this month.

A ham and oyster supper will be served at Short Gap fire hall, Saturday from 4:30 until 7:30 p. m. by the auxiliary.

The Soroptimist board meeting will be held today at 8 p. m. at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

at her home, 132 Hanover Street, Friday at 8 p. m. The dance will be in conjunction with National Secretaries Week, April 20-26. It will be on the theme "April Showers" and is to be held at Ali Ghan Country Club with music by the Townsmen. Proceeds are for the scholarship fund.

A nominating committee was appointed. It consists of Mrs. Zetta Scarlett, Miss Ruth Shaw, Mrs. Ann Hartung, Miss Newnam and Miss Lucy Balsley.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of a Civil Defense demonstration, which was held in the annual dance April 25, will have a meeting of her committee

Dinner, Dance Marks MLIC Anniversary

The 100th anniversary of Cumberland district office of the Monumental Life Insurance Company was observed with a dinner, floor show and dance at the Cumberland Country Club Wednesday night. Other branch offices celebrated simultaneously.

The invocation was given by Marlin King. The anniversary cake, inscribed with "100th anniversary," centered the table. Souvenir booklets were given as favors. It was pointed out that Monumental, on March 1, 1873, issued the first weekly premium policy of any company doing business today. The local office opened May 11, 1914 and had offices in the Liberty Trust and Clark-Keating buildings until June 1952, when it moved into its own building at 107-09 South Centre Street.

John Park, district manager, welcomed the guests and read messages from F. Harold Lawrence, president; and Frank J. Doetzer, agency vice president, outlining progress of the company and paying tribute to field personnel. George Flynn presented Russ Reynolds, who was master of ceremonies for a floor show by Club 63 Revue. The show consisted of novelty, acrobatic and tap dances, vocal solos and a magician. Darrell Zeller presented Charles Sager, who directed the Madrigal Singers of Frostburg State Teachers College in a program of songs. Dancing followed to the music of Peck Mills Orchestra.

City Council Of BSP Sets Date For Ritual Dinner

Beta Sigma Phi City Council heard the final report on the council card party held February 6 at the Episcopal parish house, and set the date for the ritual dinner, at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Elaine Diehl, 422 Columbia Street. Mrs. Martha VanHorn presided.

Miss Ruth Lester, who was chairman for the card party, reported that a check for the proceeds will be presented to the Girl Scout Camp Fund.

Further plans for the "Cruise Ball" featuring Paris, to be held April 18 at the Clary Club, were discussed. Russ Romero's Orchestra from Pittsburgh will play. The dance will be for the benefit of the Girl Scouts Camp Fund also. Miss Betty Stegmaier is general chairman. Her committee is comprised of Mrs. Phyllis Cooley, tickets and reservations; Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, publicity; Mrs. Josephine Pfeiffer, decorations, and Miss Patricia Golden, entertainment.

Mrs. Diehl announced that the ritual of Jewels dinner will be held April 29 at the Shrine Country Club. The committee is comprised of Mrs. Diehl, chairman, Mrs. Jan Wright, Mrs. Martha VanHorn and Miss Betty Stegmaier.

Other members attending were Mrs. Betty Green, Mrs. Lewis, Miss Mildred Blades, Mrs. Phyllis Cooley, Miss Betty Stegmaier, Mrs. Diehl, Alpha, Alpha chapter; Mrs. Charlotte Judy, Mrs. Josephine Pfeiffer, Miss Ruth Lester, Exemplar; Mrs. VanHorn, Miss Patricia Golden, Mrs. Helen Arthur, Omicron.

The Woman's Guild of Holy Cross Episcopal Church will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the parish hall.

Officers Elected By Eta Chapter, DKG

Plans were made for the annual spring luncheon and officers elected at the dinner meeting of Eta Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. The luncheon will be held at the Shrine Country Club May 10 at 1 p. m.

Miss Ruth McColly was elected president; Mrs. J. Russell Cook, first vice president; Miss Ann Thomas, second vice president; Miss Ruth Hanson, recording secretary; Miss Yola Hudson, corresponding secretary; and Miss Mary Wise, parliamentarian.

Miss Dorothy Emerson, associate 4-H Club agent, Extension Service, University of Maryland, was the speaker. Her topic was "Positive Thinking and Leading a Productive Life." Approximately 20 members attended.

Goodwill Class Plans Supper

The Goodwill Class of the Potomac Park EUB Church met at the home of Mrs. Mary Long, Potomac Park with Mrs. Anna Jones, assistant hostess.

Mrs. Lola Fairgrieve was in charge of the devotions, the theme being "Prayer." The group sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

Mrs. Long presided at the business session and roll call was answered with a verse of scripture. An apron was passed around for each member to enclose money for the Easter offering. The class also voted on a donation from their treasury for the same offering.

Plans were made to have a covered dish supper for members and their families to be held Friday, March 28. The committee in charge is comprised of Mrs. Audrey Witt, Mrs. Rose Hendrickson, and Mrs. Lola Fairgrieve. A social hour followed. Others attending were Mrs. Myrtle Layton, Mrs. Lavina Snyder, Mrs. Lois Shaffer, Mrs. Helen Price, Mrs. Madge Mosser, Mrs. Clara-belle Lininger, and Mrs. Miriam Shipley.

Bacon that is broiled has fine flavor. Let the bacon stand at room temperature, then separate them and place them on a rack before you put them under the heat.

Jilted Suitor Held For Fire In Girl's Home

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—John Fox, 34, of Johnstown, faces action by a Cambria County grand jury on a charge he attempted to burn down the home of a girlfriend who had rejected him.

Sgt. Arthur Wood, state police fire marshal, testified at a hearing yesterday his investigation indicated Fox set fire to papers in the basement of the home of Mrs. Caroline Ritter last Sunday night. Damage was slight.

Mrs. Ritter said Fox had threatened to fire her home after her daughter, Doris, broke off with him last October.

MISSILE MAN — Howard W. Merrill is director of operations at the Martin Company in Baltimore. The 36-year-old executive has worked extensively with development of the aircraft firm's rocket and missiles program.

Textile Workers Continue Talks

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, and the Celanese Corporation of America yesterday resumed negotiations on a new contract.

Plans were made to resume negotiations next Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Amcelle plant.

The talks are still in the preliminary stages, according to John G. Thomas, president of the local.

At yesterday's session, the company presented its proposals to the union negotiators headed by Ralph Cline, assistant director of the TWUA's synthetic yarn division.

The union presented its contract proposals at a meeting last week.

The contract is due to expire on April 8.

Sheep ranchers in Iceland recently requested the U.S. Air Force Group stationed there to assist in rounding up stray sheep who had gotten lost amid jagged lava rocks. Capt. Carl R. Pigeon, of Hopewell, Va., took off in his helicopter and soon located the lost sheep.

DST Issue Forthcoming In West Va.

Extension Of Time Period Appears To Be Main Problem

By The Associated Press

Daylight Saving Time — a subject viewed with mixed reactions — soon comes up for consideration by several of West Virginia's larger cities.

Observance of fast time usually runs from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in September or from April 27 to Sept. 28.

Last year, however, several large eastern cities extended daylight time a month longer to the last Sunday in October.

Wheeling, Moundsville and Weirton were Mountain State cities which followed the lead set by Pittsburgh, Pa., the largest city near them.

Early observations indicate that DST will be observed somewhat less extensively in West Virginia this summer than was the case last year.

Last year, eight of the 13 cities with more than 10,000 population (1950 census) observed fast time. Those cities were Beckley, Charleston, Martinsburg, Morgantown, Moundsville, South Charleston, Weirton and Wheeling.

Charleston's city council has defeated DST for this year, while in a municipal primary last week, South Charleston voters decisively voted down a fast time proposal.

The Morgantown city council is scheduled to vote on DST next Tuesday. Clarksburg's city council is expected to make a decision March 17, and Beckley and Huntington city councils have yet to act on the matter.

The five cities over 10,000 population which stayed on Eastern Standard Time last summer included Huntington, Bluefield, Clarksburg, Fairmont and Parkersburg.

Bluefield and Fairmont are expected to retain standard time, while the Parkersburg city council two years ago adopted a policy of observing standard time unless public demand forced consideration of daylight time.

Eastern Panhandle communities the largest of which is Martinsburg, follows the lead of the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area which has adopted DST in the past.

In Charleston, the city council's action does not rule out the possibility that the issue could be brought up for an election.

State Auditor Edgar B. Simms refused to conform to DST in Charleston last year when the State Capital operated on fast time. His office stayed on standard time throughout the daylight time period.

Local Coin Club Elects Officers

B. F. Arnold, Shade's Lane, was elected president of the Western Maryland Coin Club last night at a meeting in City Hall.

Other officers elected were Donald Grayson Jr., vice president; John Dorn, program chairman; Holmes Cessna, Mrs. John Malone and William Ritchie, board of directors, and Sandra Roeder, a junior member, librarian.

The club will vote at a meeting March 19 at 7:30 p. m. on a proposal to combine the posts of secretary and treasurer. This will require a change in the constitution.

The coin club, which has about 55 members, meets each third Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. It is sponsored by the City Recreation Department.

Sneeze Breaks Leg

MURCIA, Spain — (INS) — A sneeze has cost a man a broken leg in the town of Cartagena.

Pedro Hernandez Conesa, 31, sneezed when riding his motorcycle, lost control and crashed into a parked car.

RECALLED — Ali Amiri, Iran's ambassador to the U.S., has been recalled from Washington for making unauthorized proposals for the distribution of Mid-eastern oil profits. Amiri was quoted as saying that Mid-east oil income should be distributed for development purposes in proportion to the size of the countries concerned.

Egg Production Needs Outlined

Poultrymen were given statistics yesterday at a meeting at the LaVale Fire Hall outlining the type of egg production which will be necessary for a profit.

Wade Rice, extension poultryman at the University of Maryland, outlined the data.

For each man in the business there should be between 4,000 and 5,000 layers. There should be only about two per cent mortality during brooding and no more than six per cent layer mortality.

Each layer should produce about 250 eggs a year or about five every week. About four-and-one-half pounds of feed should be necessary for each dozen of eggs.

Other speakers heard yesterday were Dr. Harold M. DeVolt, professor of poultry pathology at the Livestock Sanitary Service; George Clendaniel Jr., Frederick, connected with Lederle Laboratories; R. D. Creek, nutritionist at the University of Maryland; Dr. M. V. Helbacka, assistant professor of poultry product technology at the University of Maryland; and Grover Harris, extension poultryman at the University of Maryland.

Allegany County feed dealers provided lunch for the all-day meeting at LaVale.

Ruling Seen In Unfair Labor Case

Winchester Firm Accuses Rubber Workers Of Charge

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—A decision is expected in the near future from the National Labor Relations Board on charges a union has engaged in unfair labor practices against O'Sullivan Rubber Corp.

A hearing on the charges, made against Local 511, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, was held by the NLRB.

O'Sullivan has accused the union, which was decertified as bargaining agent for O'Sullivan workers last October, with picketing since then at or near the plant here. It also contended the union through national advertising and other means attempted to "induce and encourage" consumers and purchasers to stop doing business with the firm and restrained and coerced employees of the company.

The union admitted it has continued to picket the plant, but denied the other charges. Carl Swartz, assistant district director of the union, said there were three reasons why the union was continuing the strike and picketing:

1. To "bring to light the unfairness of the Taft-Hartley Law that permits economics strikers to be replaced;"
2. To show "the unfairness" of O'Sullivan in that union members "have been denied an opportunity to work;"
3. To show that workers hired by O'Sullivan as replacements for striking union workers were wrong.

The union went on strike against O'Sullivan on May 13, 1956, during contract negotiations. Since then, striking workers have been replaced by O'Sullivan.

Nanty Glo Burgess Wants To Sue Town

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Cambria County court has ordered the borough of Nanty Glo to show cause why it should not be sued by its own Burgess.

Burgess Domenico Gelotte seeks court permission to sue the borough for damages he claims were caused after repairs to an alley diverted drainage water across his property. He said he was unable to reach a satisfactory settlement with the borough's insurance carrier.

Gas Rate Hearing Continued Until May 14 By PSC

CHARLESTON (AP)—The Public Service Commission has continued until May 14, hearing on a petition by Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. for a rate boost designed to bring in an additional $1,315,000 a year from its 48,000 customers in northern West Virginia.

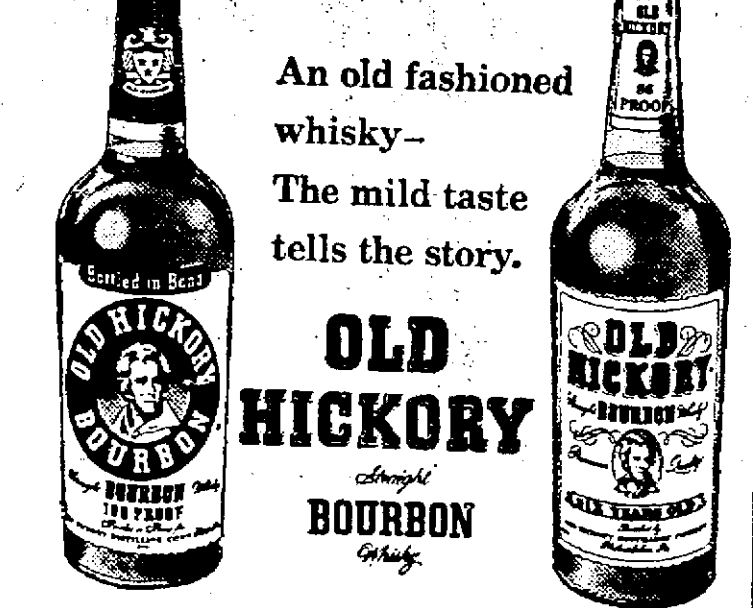

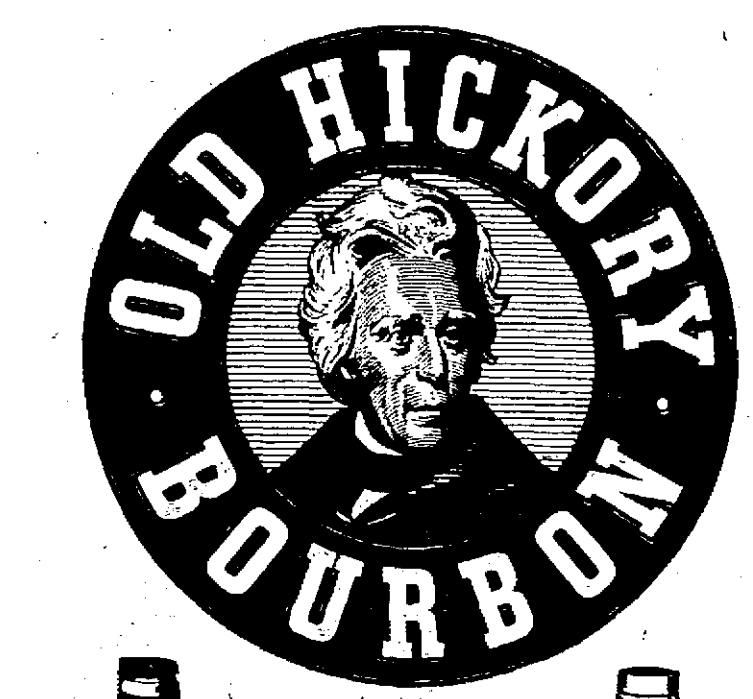

Murphy testified yesterday that an additional $918,476 in annual gross revenue would give the utility a 6 1/2 per cent return on its West Virginia rate base.

Earlier, the company told the PSC that the more than $1,300,000 it seeks, would provide it with a return of 6.75 per cent.

The discrepancy in the two figures was attributed to a difference in rates of return used by Murphy and the company.

Parking Rule Change Noted At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Chief of Police Lloyd Truly said today that parking regulations on Centre Street have been changed and will be effective immediately.

Parking throughout the past six months has been on the west side and, effective today, parking will be permitted on the east side only. This is being done, Chief Truly said, to protect the street as traffic has been exceptionally hard on the thoroughfare this winter. By changing, the other side which is in good shape will now carry the traffic until repairs can be made.

Truly also cautioned motorists to observe speed limits and stop signs in this area as it passes near the college and the Lab School.

To Attend Dance
The Do-Ci-Do Club of Frostburg State Teachers College will attend a square dance in Finzel tomorrow evening. Members are planning an all-campus square dance for later in March.

Any student or faculty member may accompany the group to Finzel. For the all-college square dance, the club plans to have not only dancing but social games and prizes.

The decorating committee for the all-campus dance will include Thelma Cummings, Ruth Hockman, Jean Cummings, William McCall and Howard Gilpin. Food committee members are Eleanor Mank, Russell Hyde, Carol Lannon, Patricia Weicht and Richard Gilpin.

The publicity committee includes Marjorie Lewis, Lorene Schrom, Dorothy Downes and Mary Angie.

Kiddie Party Sunday
A kiddie party for children of members will be held at the Maplehurst Country Club Sunday afternoon. Games, cartoons and prizes for the youngsters will feature the entertainment.

Tomorrow evening, a "decorating party" will be held in the clubhouse for members, their job being to decorate the hall for the children's party the following afternoon. After completion of the decorating, an informal party for those participating will be held with ping pong, bowling and other entertainment.

'Mad Hatter Hop' Planned Tonight By Mt. Savage FTA

MT. SAVAGE—A "Mad Hatter Hop," sponsored by the Mt. Savage High School Future Teachers of America Club, will be held this evening in the cafeteria.

The new school orchestra "Moon Glows," under the direction of Bing Elliott, music instructor, will provide music. This will be the first appearance locally of the combo.

Another feature of the dance will be the parade of originally designed hats. Each guest has been asked to decorate and wear a creation of his own. Prizes will be awarded for the most artistic, most unusual and funniest hats.

Judges for the contest will be Mrs. Robert Herboldsheimer, Principal J. Hubert Radcliffe and Richard Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools.

Doris Harden is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Colorful posters, advertising the dance, were made by the 9-3 girls. All committees have been working under the direction of Mrs. Edith Rizer and Robert Herboldsheimer co-sponsors of the FTA.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for the annual book scholarship fund for Frostburg State Teachers College and for defraying the expenses of local delegates to the FTA state convention in Hagerstown.

Coney Post Office Workers Honor Retired Mail Carrier

LONACONING—A dinner was held this week at the VFW Home

by employees of the Lonaconing Post Office in honor of Thomas P. Izat who retired as a letter carrier after 30 years and seven months of service.

Izat entered the postal service as a substitute village carrier at Lonaconing on May 5, 1927. He was presented with a copy of a resolution signed by all personnel of the local office, and a gift.

In his response, he gave a number of interesting and amusing anecdotes which occurred during his many years as letter carrier.

Postmaster Edward McPartland, who made the presentation, gave a brief history of the Federal Civil Service. He pointed out that this year marks the 75th anniversary of the Civil Service which was established January 16, 1883. McPartland mentioned that Izat has the distinction of being the first employee below the grade of postmaster to retire from the Lonaconing office with full Civil Service retirement benefits.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Izat, Dorothea Byrne, Adeline Conlon, Gertrude Marsh, McPartland, Edward Mooney, John Robertson, Edward Nolan, James

Frostburg National Guard
Announces 19 Promotions

FROSTBURG — Nineteen members of Company D, 115th Infantry, National Guard, have received promotions, according to Lt. Francis J. Allen, commanding officer.

Promoted from private first class to corporal are James M. Foye, James L. Bisigano, Gerald R. Lewis, John R. Loar, Carl C. Murray and Carl E. Pape.

Promoted from private first class to specialist third class are Harold W. Coburn, Carl J. Donald, Edward D. Drew, George T. Green, Darrell C. Harden, James L. Harris, Lanny R. Harris, Ralph C. Lashbaugh, Dale F. Meese, McCaffrey J. Smith, Ronald L. Smith, Anthony J. Spataro and Raymond W. Walker.

Company D has 54 enlisted men and four officers. There are openings for nine men in the company at the present time, according to Lt. Allen. Veterans with military experience or young men with no previous military experience are eligible for enlistment.

Young men of military age may fulfill the major part of their military obligation with a reserve unit. Such service has the advantage of allowing young men to continue schooling and work while their military obligation is being fulfilled.

Persons interested in joining Company D may contact CWO Arnett J. Arrington at the Frostburg armory on Water Street any weekday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., or attend the unit's weekly drill at the armory. The unit drills each Tuesday between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. The presentation of a plaque earned at last summer's encampment will be held Tuesday at 9 p. m.

Class Planned

Beginning Sunday and continuing during the Sundays in March, an Enquirers' Class will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church at 4 p. m. for persons interested in finding out more of the teaching, worship and practices of the Episcopal Church.

The four Sundays will have the following topics as a broad base for discussion:

March 9, "Worship in the Episcopal Church."

March 16, "The Faith in the Episcopal Church."

March 23, "The Ministry in the Episcopal Church."

March 30, "The Bible as Fundamental to the Episcopal Church."

Rev. H. Martin P. Davidson, rector. If there is demand, classes will be resumed after Easter.

Group Meets

The Women's Work Group of Church of the Brethren met a recent evening in the Sunday School room of the church. Mrs. Mary Hetz and Mrs. Hazel Spiker were in charge of devotions with the theme "What the Bible Says About Temperance."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna and Mrs. Viola Chaney.

16 Students
Will Attend
Conventions

FROSTBURG—Sixteen students and three faculty advisers of Frostburg State Teachers College will travel to New York City during this month to attend various conventions. Representatives of State-To-Date and of Nemacon will attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association March 12-16. Those participating in the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers will be at conference March 19-22.

Nemacon will be represented at the CSPS convention, yearbook division, by Susan Eader, 1959 activities editor; Judith Wilson, 1959 organization editor; Dacia Gilliam, 1959 sophomore editor; Mary Frances DeLuca, 1959 business staff and Mrs. Helen B. Silverthorne, faculty advisor.

Representing State-To-Date at the CSPS convention will be Patsy McGill, editor-in-chief; Jo Epperson, editorial writer; Carla Martz Grimes and Sarah Slick, co-editors of feature staff; Marina Tuya, co-editor of news staff; William Fair, co-editor of sports staff; Robert Hardman, photographer; Eleanor Minke and Nancy Parker, co-business managers and Dr. Lucile N. Clay, faculty advisor.

Patricia Allen will represent Frostburg State Teachers College as voting delegate at the Eastern States convention, March 19-22. Joan Luttrell, alternate delegate, will become the official representative next year. James Rankin will represent the Student Congress and John Dunn is the faculty delegate from FSTC. About 600 delegates will attend the conference.

"School Newspapers Move Education Forward on the Campus" is the theme for the teachers college division of the CSPS convention. The first general meeting will be held March 13 when William D. Boutwell, director of the teenage book club, New York, will speak. Following this will be a tour of the New York Times building.

A clinic devoted to layout of papers will be held March 14 at 9:30. Dr. Earl Robacker, chairman of the high school English department of White Plains, N. Y. will criticize the papers. Following the clinic Jacob Jacowitz, education editor of the New York Telegram and Sun, will speak.

On Friday afternoon there will be three student panels. Patsy McGill will be chairman of the group discussing "Organization of Editorials and Editorial Problems in College Newspapers." Sarah Slick will be a member of the panel dealing with "Censorship." Eleanor Minke will participate in the panel on "Sports."

A business meeting will be held in the assembly suite of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel at 10 a.m. Saturday where the president of the TC division of the CSPS will be elected. Following this meeting the convention will close with the convention luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The general theme for the Eastern State convention is "Guiding Youth in the Era of the Guided Missile." All meetings will be held at the Hotel New Yorker where FSTC delegates will stay.

March 19 will be devoted to registration, tour of various New York schools, a leadership training session, and a tea and social in the evening at New York University.

Friday, general sessions will begin at 9 a.m. The sessions will be made up all day of student faculty groups with a conference luncheon at the Hotel New Yorker. A prominent speaker will address the delegates at the luncheon on a current education topic.

Among the various topics to be discussed at the Friday general session will be "Good Teacher-Pupil Relationships in the Modern School," "Importance of Professional Education Courses,"

Baptist Church
Plans Sanctuary
At Cresaptown

CRESAPTOWN — Within the next month, construction work is expected to begin on a new sanctuary at Calvary Baptist Church here.

Rev. Harold A. Allen, pastor, announced that R. G. Robeson Inc., contractors, have been given the contract for the sanctuary. A $65,000 bond issue, offered recently by the church was reserved within six days, according to the pastor, who said members of the congregation invested nearly $45,000 in the bonds with relatives, neighbors and friends investing the remaining amount.

Four years ago, the church built a basement structure at a cost of more than $30,000. Sunday School and worship services have been held in the building.

Rev. Allen pointed out that through free-will offerings the entire amount has been liquidated, membership of the church has grown to more than 100, and Sunday School enrollment has risen to 270.

Maplehurst
Work Begins

FROSTBURG—One soil conservation measure on which work was started in February was the construction of a one-and-one-third acre pond at the Maplehurst Country Club here.

Martin M. Gordon, of the Soil Conservation Service, reported on February activities at a recent meeting of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

Primary purpose of the Maplehurst pond will be the irrigation of greens and fairways.

A number of surveys were undertaken during the past month despite the cold and snow. Included were a 1,700-foot open ditch survey for the farm of Cyril Luker at Oldtown; a 1,250-foot open ditch survey for William Hawkins at Town Creek; and livestock water pond surveys for Harman Barton at Pinto and Eric Boyer at Pine Plains.

Darby J. Healy became a new district cooperater for his farm just north of Oldtown. He is interested in a livestock water pond and better grassland cover.

Bridgewater Choral Units
Plan Program At Keyser

KEYSER—Choral groups from Bridgewater (Va.) College will present a sacred concert Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the Church of the Brethren, according to Rev. Fred M. Bowman, pastor.

Both the men's and women's quartets are under the personal direction of Professor Galen L. Stinebaugh, native of Indiana. He graduated from Manchester College, Sherwood Music School and Northwestern University. He is now serving on the National Music Commission of the Church of the Brethren.

The women's quartet is composed of Jewel Miller, Arlington, Tozer, Morgantown; CWO James Va., first soprano; Lois Huffman, Broadway, Va., second soprano; Carolyn Yates, Falls Church, Va., first alto; Myrna Dove, Mokesville, Va., second alto; and Dorothy Jones, Hagers-town, Md., accompanist.

The men's quartet is composed of Douglas Smith, Arlington, Va., first tenor; Jerry Wampler, Broadway, Va., second tenor; Richard Gordon, New Carlisle, Ohio, first bass; Thomas Myers, Avondale, Pa., second bass, and Peter Hayslett, Covington, Va., accompanist.

Represented in these groups were U. S. Reserve Capt. Edward Stagers, principal, introduced the armed services representatives. At the conclusion of the program, senior and junior class boys were divided into groups for discussion on the individual branches in the armed services.

Col. Jack W. Blair, deputy director of West Virginia Selective Service, spoke at a military information program conducted in Piedmont High School assembly room yesterday.

The speaker selected as a title for his talk, "A Lesson in Democracy," saying "that while each individual male has a military obligation, there are many ways to fulfill this obligation, thus helping to maintain our democracy."

The program was part of a test being conducted in 15 West Virginia schools to evaluate the necessity of this type of program. Schools selected by the West Virginia State School Principals' Association, include Piedmont High School. The school participation program is under the supervision of Clements Brown, state guidance supervisor.

Plan To Solve World Overpopulation Given

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — A and bodies have failed but who yesterday that euthanasia—mercy death—might be a solution to the expected overpopulation of the world when man wins mastery over killing diseases.

Dr. Paul Wood, director of the London Institute of Cardiology, said many people may soon be living to the age of 90 or 100, creating a population problem.

He declared that rapid advances in medical science indicate a future victory over top killing diseases, among them heart trouble.

As an example, he said a new drug has been discovered which may be instrumental in destroying fatty tissues in the blood stream which lead to coronary deaths. Wood declined to name the drug.

The heart specialist, in Los Angeles on a lecture tour, said the day may come when most people will be able to retire at 65 and then will live for perhaps 35 years more but will require support, many at public expense.

Euthanasia, he said, may be the answer for those whose minds could be kept alive by medical means.

He indicated that for some euthanasia might mean merely the withdrawal of medical treatment, adding:

"I would not be against it in these cases."

Food Registration Set At Ridgeley

In the future, residents in communities of nearby Mineral County must have identification cards to get surplus government commodities which are distributed each month.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer of Ridgeley said Mrs. Lucille Peters and her staff from the Department of Public Assistance in West Virginia will be at the City Building today to reregister eligible persons.

Reregistration will be continued until 4:30 p. m. Some residents have been notified by mail of the new setup.

SEES BUDDY SHOT DOWN

—Lt. Ronald E. Martin, Sabre jet pilot stationed in Korea, yesterday reported seeing a companion pilot, also flying a Sabre jet, shot down near the Korean neutral zone. The plane was hit by Communist anti-aircraft guns while the two pilots were flying a low level training mission 65 miles northeast of Seoul, Korea. Lt. Martin told Air Force officials he saw the pilot parachute from the jet and that he was traveling toward the ground on the Communist side of the line. (AP Photofax).

Compensation Appeal Filed

An appeal has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Philip Barkman, 521 Hill Top Drive, against the Cumberland Steel Company and State Accident Fund.

Barkman had contended that he sustained a heart injury while driving large nails in cribbing timbers on a truck at the Cumberland Steel Company, where he was employed.

Last July 15, Commissioner R. Duncan Clark of the old State Industrial Accident Commission ruled that Barkman was barred from compensation by limitation provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law.

Barkman, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, appealed to Circuit Court. George R. Hughes Sr., was attorney for the Cumberland Steel Company and Ernest N. Cary represented the State Accident Fund.

W.Va. Buying Army Supply Of Equipment

Heavy Duty Trucks, Jeeps Acquired By State Roads Group

CHARLESTON — The State Road Commission said today it would pick up almost half a million dollars worth of virtually new equipment next week at a bargain price of $49,489.

It has purchased from the federal government 78 heavy-duty vehicles ranging from cargo-carriers to jeeps.

All Army surplus, the vehicles had an original cost totaling $494,890. The state will obtain them for one-tenth of that amount at a saving of $445,401, Commissioner Patrick C. Graney explained.

Most of the vehicles have been driven fewer than 20 miles. They will be distributed among the 10 SRC districts to replace worn-out equipment being removed from service.

Director William I. Birthel of the commission's equipment division said the purchase was made from the General Services Administration, through the Bureau of Public Roads.

The vehicles now are the Army's Letterkenny Ordnance Depot near Chambersburg, Pa., and will leave there next Wednesday morning in a 2½-mile long convoy with a distance of 100 feet between each.

To reach the equipment division headquarters at Buckhannon, the convoy will travel via Hagerstown, Md.; Winchester, Va.; and Romney, W.Va., with a State Police escort in each of the three states.

Graney said the new equipment would include 31 cargo-carriers, a tractor-trailer, 40 jeeps and six tank trucks. Thirty-one of the jeeps will be brought into the state on the cargo-carriers.

Officials at the Letterkenny Ordnance Depot told Birthel that the convoy would be the largest single movement of vehicles from the installation in its existence.

Drivers for the vehicles will leave Buckhannon by bus next Tuesday and will begin the return trip Wednesday morning. They are scheduled to arrive back in Buckhannon on Thursday morning.

Writer, Director Dies In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Sam Taylor, a veteran motion picture writer, director and producer who turned to novel writing in recent years, died yesterday, following a heart attack. He was 62.

Taylor's career in the motion picture industry dated back to the silent era. His first directing assignment was "Girl Shy" with Harold Lloyd.

During his long career Taylor worked on scores of movies for United Artists, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and 20th Century Fox Studios.

"The Many With My Face" was one of his best known novels.

Coal Production In U. S. Drops

WASHINGTON — The National Coal Assn. today estimated bituminous production for the week ended March 1 as about 8,445,000 tons against 9,660,000 tons for the corresponding period last year.

Production for the week ended Feb. 22 was 6,790,000 tons.

Production for the Jan. 1-March 1 period was estimated at about 68,011,000 tons compared with 84,746,000 tons a year ago.

Fund Raising Plan Started In California

Democrats Donate $25 Monthly, GOP Remaining Silent

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Some California Democrats in search of a winner have come up with a donation-of-the-month idea to bring in campaign dollars.

It's the $25,000 Club. Members sign to chip in $25 a month. Sponsors are aiming for 1,000 of these political angels — good for $25,000 a month or $300,000 a year.

You don't get a bonus, as you do from the book clubs. But there is a gold-plated membership card. State Sen. Hugh M. Burns of Fresno, a member of the advisory board, says the money will be apportioned among selected party nominees. It won't go to just anyone. Support will be limited to those who have a good chance of winning and can't raise funds otherwise.

Republicans, who have relied on the United Republican Finance Committee for their campaign cash for years, have remained silent on the new Democratic rival.

One political commentator calls the $25,000 Club "the greatest device since Tammany Hall."

Bank Merger Scheduled In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH — One of the largest bank mergers in western Pennsylvania in many years is set for mid-April when the Barclay - Westmoreland Trust Co., Greensburg, will become a part of the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co., Pittsburgh.

Under the terms of the merger, which directors of both firms have approved, Barclay shareholders will receive one and two one-hundredths shares of Mellon stock for each share of Barclay-Westmoreland.

Barclay - Westmoreland, founded in 1854, is the largest banking firm in Westmoreland County with resources of more than $3 million dollars. Mellon has resources totaling more than two billion dollars.

BALTIMORE — Maryland counted 31 traffic fatalities in January, or one more than for the same month last year.

There were 10 deaths in Baltimore City compared with only five in January, 1957. The counties recorded 21 deaths, or 16 per cent below the figure for the same month of 1957.

Fourteen counties were free of fatalities, the report released by State Police said.

Legislature Unable To Decide On Taxes

Assembly In Overtime Deliberation

Legality In Doubt As Governor Does Not Extend Limit

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Two new proposals were laid before the House Ways and Means Committee today as it struggled to find an acceptable tax plan and break a deadlock which had kept the Legislature in overtime session.

Seeking a program to balance next year's budget with 33 million dollars in new revenues, the committee heard Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th) suggest the possibility of a graduated income tax.

Del. Urban (D-Balto 2nd) then proposed that the money be raised by raising corporation income taxes from 5 to 6 per cent, boosting earned income taxes from 2 to 3 per cent, and imposing an 8 per cent surtax on the amount of tax which would be owed under the 3 per cent plan.

The search for a tax plan went on through a legislative session which had been scheduled to adjourn at midnight last night.

The extension was not ordered by the governor and immediately raised constitutional questions over any tax bill that may eventually be enacted.

McKeldin said he planned to confer today with Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert about the legal problems involved.

Time Ended At Midnight

The Legislature's time officially ran out at midnight last night although both houses of the General Assembly were still on their "legislative day" of March 4 when they quit work at 2:16 a.m. until 11 a.m. today.

The impasse developed when the House of Delegates for a third straight time in 24 hours rejected Gov. McKeldin's proposals to boost the income and sales taxes 50 per cent each, spurred a different tax plan already passed by the Senate and turned down one other alternate offered from the floor.

House and Senate leaders got a verbal okay from Sybert that they could get some rest and come back in.

But a legal advisor to the governor said there was "a very serious question" whether their work would still be constitutional. He told McKeldin that any taxpayer could take the program into court and challenge it for a clear ruling.

Maryland courts have never specified whether the constitutional limit of 30 days on even-year sessions or 90 days on odd-year meetings means calendar days or "legislative days," a device used by the Assembly in running its business and keeping its journal straight.

Cannot Challenge Journal

The Court of Appeals has ruled, in another matter, that the Journal of Proceedings cannot be challenged. These showed the two houses were still in session as of March 4 today although the calendar read March 7.

Customarily the House and Senate regard the scheduled final day of the session as a calendar limit, stop their clocks and continue working beyond midnight however long it may be necessary to complete their business. But they don't normally quit and recess for any period of hours.

House Majority Leader Gordon Boone (D-Balto County) told the hopelessly deadlocked delegates last night after a hurried conference with Sybert and other House and Senate leaders: "It's (Sybert's) considered opinion that if you can set the clock back two hours, you can set it back two days or two months if necessary."

Many Problems
This year's stumbling block to adjournment developed over how to raise 33 million dollars in new tax revenue to balance Gov. McKeldin's budget of some 379 million dollars which had already been enacted.

The issue has occupied the General Assembly for the last two days, has been caught up in a cross-current of politics and local interests, and has frayed legislative tempers. There was no certainty that today would bring any agreement.

Democratic leaders of the House have been pushing for Assembly approval of the Republican gov-

Three Youths Join Air Force

Three area youths have enlisted in the Air Force at the local recruiting station and assigned to the recruit training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. They signed up for four years.

They are Raymond L. LaRue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde V. LaRue, Pinto; Donald E. Rennie, Cresaptown; son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Rennie, North Miami, Fla.; and Harold L. Root, son of Mrs. Ethel I. Root, 218 South Smallwood Street.

Three Of Five Stolen Cars Recovered By Local Police

City and state police last night were running around in "circles" looking for stolen cars.

Local authorities said this morning that no less than five automobiles were stolen within the city last night.

This morning local police recovered three of the vehicles, while two are still listed as "missing."

The series of thefts started at 7:30 p. m. when W. C. Holbrook, 408 Washington Street, reported his 1955 Plymouth sedan missing from in front of his house. The car was recovered by Officer Frank Bohn near the corner of Washington and Lee streets.

Less than an hour later R. W. King, 506 Washington Street, informed police that his 1953 Packard was stolen from in front of his home. It was found this morning by Officer James Bolyard parked on Allegany Street, just around the corner from the King residence.

Shortly after 10 p. m., an official of the R. W. Norris Company reported his car missing from Prospect Square. The 1956 Chevrolet was later located by Officer Bolyard in the rear of the German Brewing Company.

Still on the missing list is a 1947 Oldsmobile owned by Hezzie Northcraft of 324 Emily Street, and a 1950 Buick owned by Leslie Higgs Jr., Cresaptown, and stolen near Frederick and Emily streets.

Police early this morning apprehended three local youths in connection with the series of car thefts. They were being questioned today, but no charges were preferred.

Travelers' Election Set On Saturday

Cumberland Council 179, United Commercial Travelers of America, will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. in the IOOF Hall.

The session will be the final of the fiscal year. Officers will be elected and delegates will be selected for the annual Grand Council May 29-31 in Richmond, Va.

Garland L. Chaney, senior counselor, and H. C. Harclerode, secretary, will report on the council's promotional dinner scheduled March 28 at 7 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

William L. Poole, Roanoke, Va., field representative, will be in Cumberland from March 24 until March 29 to formulate plans for a membership campaign for the local organization. The council's membership goal is established by the Mid-Atlantic Grand Council which is composed of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and the District of Columbia.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

The council's auxiliary will serve a covered dish supper at 6 p. m. in the Girl Scout House on Greene Street.

Girl Arrested On Check Charge

A 15-year-old Romney girl was arrested yesterday by authorities for cashing a bad check at a Romney service station.

Trooper C. E. Dorsey of the West Virginia State Police and Romney Police Chief Luther Hutter apprehended the girl for cashing a $10 check at the Hephners Service Station in Romney.

Police said the girl used the name of William Riley Lloyd of the Romney area, but spelled Riley as "Really."

She was released in the custody of her parents and will be given a hearing on Thursday of next week.

Somerset Man Dies In Crash

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—A Somerset, Pa. salesman was fatally injured yesterday. State Police said, when his car crashed on U. S. 50, 4 1/2 miles west of Winchester.

Trooper C. D. Taylor said Harry E. Barkman apparently lost control of his auto, and hit a cement bridge abutment. Barkman received multiple injuries and died 10 hours later in a Winchester hospital.

Barkman was returning home from a business trip.

Weather Will Be Fair Over Weekend

The weather is still snappy in Western Maryland with an overnight low of 33 degrees being recorded in Cumberland.

The forecast for Allegany and Carroll counties calls for it to be fair tonight with the low between 22 and 28 degrees.

Tomorrow is to be partly cloudy, with the high in the upper 30s to low 40s. Sunday is to be generally fair with little change in temperature.

Westernport Seen Winner In Water Case

The Town of Westernport apparently has won its fight to discontinue the operation of the chlorinator on its water main at the Savage River Dam.

Chief Judge George Henderson heard the arguments in the case brought by the State Board of Health seeking an injunction against the town to keep it from dropping the chlorinator.

After the facts were presented by both sides, the judge heard arguments on a demurrer filed by the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport.

He indicated he will sustain this demurrer.

Judge Henderson said he was inclined to agree with the view of Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Town of Westernport, that the contract of the town to furnish water to 19 Garrett County families living along Savage River between the dam and the Westernport town limits was an "ultra vires" contract, in that the municipality lacks the power to sell water outside its corporate limits.

Manges had argued that the terms of the town's charter specifically prohibit the town from selling water outside its corporate limits. He acknowledged that this could mean that a Westernport taxpayer might bring a suit to prohibit sale of water to Franklin, Brophytown and the Horse Rock Hill area.

Judge Henderson said the State Board of Health probably has the authority to obtain an injunction to prevent the Town of Westernport from selling raw water to the 19 families along Savage River below the dam. But he expressed doubts that the Board of Health could get an injunction to force the Town of Westernport to continue to chlorinate the water at the dam.

Although he indicated that it would be several days before his written opinion and order are available, Judge Henderson commented that the decision probably would be appeal to the Maryland Court of Appeals. He suggested that chlorinated water should continue to be furnished to the 19 families pending the conclusion of the appeal, but expressed doubts that Westernport should have to bear the added cost.

Youths To Get Motor Hearings

Three area youths were scheduled for hearings this afternoon on charges of tampering with motor vehicles.

The trio was apprehended by local authorities yesterday and warrants were obtained by Det. George Furstenberg. They were arrested by Officers Frank Bohn and Paul Penrod.

Following their arrest the local police found a box of automobile accessories in the car, which had been reported stolen during the past several weeks.

The trio includes William D. Croston, 20, of RD 1, Cash Valley Road; Larry Wolfe, 18, of Piedmont Avenue, Extended, and Garry Corbin, 18, Paw Paw.

Ebert To Head "No Fund" Drive

Robert Little Ebert, local civic leader, today said he gladly accepts the chairmanship for the first annual "No Fund" drive of the Allegany County Red Cross chapter.

He was appointed by C. M. Sanner, Red Cross chapter chairman. Ebert said it will be a pleasant change not to ask people to ring doorbells and make no solicitations. The Red Cross has joined the County United Fund, which eliminates the numerous fund raising campaigns in the area.

Assessment Measure Among Maryland Bills Before Governor For Signing

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Senate early today approved more than 90 million dollars worth of new State building construction and other Maryland capital improvements.

The package includes $1,286,000 for construction of a building to house aged patients at the Eastern Shore State Hospital, which had been cut by the House. It was the biggest single cut as the delegates lopped off nearly six million dollars from Gov. McKeldin's capital improvements program of $13,367,300.

But even when the measure came before the Senate in a session lasting until 2:20 a.m., Sen. Markus (D-Dorchester) led a fight to restore the allowances for the hospital building at Cambridge.

He told the Senate the building was necessary to relieve overcrowded conditions at the hospital. He said additional space was needed for 245 persons. His amendment to restore funds for the building carried by a 13-8 margin.

Among major pieces of legislation enacted and sent to Gov. McKeldin yesterday were:

A bill to allow assessment of personal property at market value while real estate is assessed at full value, less an allowance for inflation. Assessors had been following this procedure for years until the Court of Appeals ruled it is discriminatory.

A bill setting up an incentive program for State employees. The workers could receive bonuses up to $3,000 for an idea.

A measure to revise priorities in Maryland's long-range highway program and incorporate new road construction.

The General Assembly also enacted an order altering a new salary scale plan it had adopted earlier this week. The change enables veteran workers to advance to the pay level established for their term of service.

The legislators also approved a bill named by the presiding officer to try to iron out the problem and come up with an amendment acceptable to both chambers.

LEADERS OF NEW TROOP—These are the leaders of Polomac Council's newest Boy Scout troop, No. 80, sponsored by the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Company. Kneeling, left to right, are Norman Flaskamp, patrol leader; Robert Mongold, Gary Ogilvie and James Castle, all assistant patrol leaders, and standing, James Shront and Brad Stone, patrol leaders; Harley Wincer, senior patrol leader; David Arrington, assistant patrol leader, and William Aumiller, troop scribe.

Two Damage Suits Filed In Local Court

Two damage cases were docketed in Circuit Court today along with notice of settlement in both actions.

Suit was brought by Joseph Robert Lee Smith by Ernest Lindell Keller, a friend, against George W. Hendrickson, RD 3, Bedford Road, the Celanese Corporation of America and Warren D. Staley, Moorefield, for injuries sustained in a crash of a car operated by Hendrickson and a truck operated by Staley.

Keller sought $1,500 for injuries suffered by Smith. The settlement was reached for $550. A similar suit was brought by Bernard Joseph Greise, through his parents, George and Margaret Greise, RD 3, Bedford Road, against the same defendants.

The Greise couple asked damages of $3,000 and the settlement reached amounted to $2,000. Fred H. Anderson was attorney for the plaintiffs in both cases.

The declaration states the two boys were passengers in a car operated by Hendrickson on Route 220 about a mile north of Cumberland, last November 9. The car crashed into the rear of a truck operated by Staley and leased to the Celanese company. Both the car and truck operators were charged with negligence in the two suits.

Groups Seek Street Work

Two groups from LaVale appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today concerning streets which they wish to have incorporated into the county system.

Fred H. Anderson, attorney, represented one group which resides in Warfield Place Addition. He said the property owners had contracted for laying of crushed stone on the street in front of their property and wanted it included in the system.

The commissioners told Anderson to contact J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, to discuss whether or not the roadway complied with specifications for inclusion in the system.

A second group which resides on Glenview Drive in Zeller's Addition, had the same questions to ask the board. Mrs. Melvin Wright, spokesman for the group, said they had most of their questions answered in the discussion on the Warfield Place Addition street problem.

Mrs. Wright was instructed to get right of ways from the property owners on Glenview Drive, have a street surface meeting specifications laid and also to petition the board for inclusion of the roadway into the county system.

Friend Critical After Stroke

Trial Magistrate Earl C. Friend of Oakland is reported in "critical" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was admitted after suffering a paralytic stroke.

Hospital attaches said the magistrate suffered the stroke at his home in Mt. Lake Park.

Friend was appointed magistrate last April, succeeding W. O. Bitzer. Friend had resided in Garrett County since 1953 after having been absent since about 1914. He was born in Deer Park in 1887. He had been in the automobile and real estate business in Parkersburg, W. Va., prior to returning to his native county.

He was also a former employee of the B&O Railroad, in its police department.

Manholes Being Made Larger

Manholes on Baltimore Street used by the C&P Telephone Company to get to the conduits beneath the surface of the street are being enlarged.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said permits were obtained for the work at the intersections of South Liberty and South Centre Streets.

He explained the new-type conduits used by the phone company are larger than the older ones, and it was necessary to increase the manhole size to accommodate them. The enlarging will also provide additional working space.

To Present Recital

Porter Heaps, recording artist and reputed as one of the nation's finest organists and teachers, will present an organ recital Wednesday, March 19, at 8 p. m. at South Hagerstown High School.

Plant Sale Will Be Held Tomorrow

The sheriff's sale of the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company's equipment and machinery in Lonaconing will go on as scheduled tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the plant on Advocate Court in that community.

It was reported this morning that the sale would not go on because a petition of involuntary bankruptcy had been filed Wednesday in U. S. District Court in Baltimore.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir had been advised of this action by I. William Schimmel, Baltimore attorney, and asked that the sale be held up.

Schimmel, a representative of a group of Tach-Fast creditors, said the federal action takes priority over any state court action.

However, this morning C. William R. Carscaden, attorney for Gateway Steel Company, plaintiff in the Allegany County Circuit Court suit calling for the sheriff's sale, said the sale will go on as scheduled unless a federal court order is received.

He said Sheriff Muir agreed with him on this action.

Group To Attend Hancock Meeting

A group of 18 headed by J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education, will represent Allegany County at the Region 2 meeting of the Maryland Vocational and Practical Arts Association at Hancock tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

Region 2 is composed of Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties.

Others attending from here will be:

Thomas Hinds, John A. Ferguson, Lee R. Alexander, and Charles Eberly, all of Fort Hill High; Boston E. Sherwood, Allegany; Charles E. Waterman, Carver; Roger W. Lynch, Cresaptown; James Hager, Paul L. Footen and Miss Susan Gleason, all of Bruce.

Joseph Haugen and James Scott, both of Valley; John Helmick, Mt. Savage; Maurice Nelson, Beall; Kenneth Malone and Miss Joanne Sherbutzel, both of Pleasanton; and Wallace Walker, former instructor at the Allegany Trade School.

Highway Bill Gets Approval

The General Assembly last night enacted a bill that will enable the revision of priorities in Maryland's long range highway program and incorporate new road construction.

House Bill 119 was sponsored by Del. George R. Hughes Jr., of this county, House minority leader, and Del. A. Gordon Boone, House majority leader.

Passage of the bill was pressed by State Sen. Charles M. See and Del. Hughes so that work can be started on dualization of U. S. Route 40 from Hancock to Frostburg.

The bill faced defeat in the Senate before it was amended to prevent possible local veto power over construction decided upon by the State Roads Commission.

The measure as originally drafted authorized the SRC to rearrange priorities in any county "with the consent" of local officials. The amendment provides the commission may make changes "after advising and conferring with" local authorities.

The House concurred in the Senate amendments and sent the measure to Gov. McKeldin.

Bond Posted

Alexander J. Schute, 50, this city, has posted $1,000 bond before the U. S. Commissioner here for his appearance before the United States District Court in Baltimore. He is charged with evading $4,666 income taxes from 1951 to 1954.

Surplus Food Plan Under Consideration

Agencies Cite Need But Items Available Are Not Desirable

A discussion was held today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners with representatives of the Salvation Army, Associated Charities and Welfare Board on the advisability of resuming the surplus food distribution program.

Meeting with the board were Captain Daniel Biggs, Salvation Army; Mrs. Elinor M. Westfeldt, director of the Welfare Board, and Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities.

Surplus foods available are corn meal, dried milk, cheese, flour and rice.

The three representatives of the charity and welfare agencies told the commissioners there is a definite need for surplus food in the county as there has been much unemployment in recent months.

The question then came up as to the desirability of the food offered and whether it would not be better to attempt to obtain other foods such as butter, eggs and beef and gravy. The items available are not the type which would provide the desired nutrition, it was decided.

It was brought out that the cost of distributing these less desirable items would be just as great as it would be for butter, eggs and the better type foods.

Commissioners James Orr and William A. Wilson said they would hold in abeyance any action until after officials of the State Department of Budget and Procurement could be contacted concerning the chances of obtaining butter, eggs and canned beef and gravy.

All parties were agreed there is a need for surplus food in the area, but are not sure the cost involved would be commensurate with the foods obtained.

The county conducted a surplus food distribution program for 29 months which was ended October 23, 1956 when the supply of butter, eggs and canned beef and gravy and cheese were no longer available. It cost the county approximately $40,000 to distribute the food during the 29 months.

Commissioner Orr also pointed out that the County Roads Department had distributed the food in the former program, but would be hard pressed with strictly road repair work as a result of the bad weather this winter.

Mertens Seen Exalted Ruler Of Elks Lodge

John E. Mertens Wednesday was nominated without opposition to head Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks. He will succeed Exalted Ruler Harry E. Thomas.

Also unopposed were F. L. Robertson for esteemed leading knight; Paul G. Stakem, esteemed loyal knight; Glenwood Reel, esteemed lecturing knight; James E. Yarnall, secretary; E. A. Dashiell, treasurer; Eugene Helman, tiler, and Robert F. Moore, trustee. Alternate to the Grand Lodge is Bruce M. Mackey, past exalted ruler.

Mertens will announce appointive posts following an official election of officers March 19 at 8 p. m. when an initiation of candidates will be held.

Accepted to membership were Carroll K. Helm, Edward J. Connolly, George E. Ziegler, John P. Longacre, Avis O. Comer and H. O. Broll.

Following the election-initiation, a shrimp feed will be served. Officers will be installed April 2.

Sewage Plant Plan Aired

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today met with John J. McMillen, chairman of the Upper Potomac River Commission, and William Walsh, attorney, concerning the sewage problem on Georges Creek.

McMillen told the board that the waste treatment plant which the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company will erect near Westernport could not be used to treat sewage from along Georges Creek.

The paper company waste treatment plant is set up to handle the Luke mill waste, the sewage of Westernport, Luke and Piedmont, McMillen said. There is a leeway of 50 per cent capacity to handle future waste treatment needs of the mill and Tri-Towns.

This rules out connecting a trunk sewage line from the Georges Creek onto the Luke mill system, the board was told. Under legislation the Upper Potomac River Commission cannot go any further with the program than the Luke mill waste treatment plant.

The board was also reminded that the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company is paying for the entire cost of the treatment plant. The company is also offering the Tri-Towns community the right to hook up with the waste treatment plant at no cost.

Services for Charles Lewis, 65, who died Wednesday at his home on Miltenberger Road, Ridgeley, will be celebrated tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Alvin K. Michael, pastor of Wiley Ford Pentecostal Church. Burial will be in Abe Cemetery on Old Furnace Road.

Palbearers, all members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Car-men, will be D. B. Brinkman, H. H. Squires, E. J. Twigg, Stanley Teels, C. R. Teets and O. G. Zoller.

Hiner Services

A requiem mass will be celebrated for Frank J. Hiner, 700 Montgomery Avenue, tomorrow at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church. Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Palbearers will be Hugh W. Burns, Carl Mulligan, Robert Mulligan, Simon K. Carroll, William F. Staarman and George F. Garlitz.

Baltimore Asks Bids

On Pipeline Work

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 33-mile pipeline, costing an estimated $5 million dollars is expected to supply Baltimore's water needs until the year 2000.

The city will advertise for bids March 21 for construction of the first stage of the pipeline which will bring water to Baltimore from the Susquehanna River. The project is scheduled for completion in 1959.

Edward J. Ryan Files

For Democratic Unit

Edward J. Ryan, local attorney, has filed with the Board of Election Supervisors for the Democratic Committee for Allegany County, subject to the primary May 20.

Harry T. Warnick, near Lonaconing, filed his candidacy for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary May 20.

Payment Of Wages In Doubt

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Legislators unable to solve the State's tax problems had a new one today.

How were they going to pay their staffs?

There is no provision immediately available for payment of the officers, secretaries, pages and other employees beyond the regular session scheduled to end yesterday.

In fact, elected leaders weren't sure if their staffs which handle the routine work would show up today since their pay wasn't guaranteed.

"Have the governor send down a supplemental appropriation and enact a new law to pay for it," suggested one wisecracker. The Legislature has failed in two days to agree on new taxes for the necessary State appropriations.

Turnbull Disappointed At Assembly Time

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Senate majority floor leader expressed "bitter disappointment" today that the Legislature has gone beyond its usual time limit in the fight over Gov. McKeldin's tax program.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) made the remark in moving that the Senate recess until 11 a. m. today in deference to the House quitting until that hour.

Derr To Run

FREDERICK (AP) — Mayor John A. Derr of Frederick is expected to file today at Annapolis for the GOP nomination for state comptroller.

Seeks Senate Post

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Del. Simpkins has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for State senator from Somerset County.

Eighteen-year-old Dion E. Shook never played high school basketball in Cumberland, but the North End youth had a key role in the championship won by his team at the Manhattan Air Force Base, Brooklyn.

Dion Shook in a best-of-three post-season series for the base crown.

The Yellow Jackets, who qualified for the playoffs by taking the second half, grabbed the lead in the title set with a 46-45 triumph. Shook came close to being a hero in this game, whipping in a pair of field goals in the last minute to pull his team from a three-point deficit, but the Yellow Jackets "Rodge" Rogers stung the Flyers by banging in the winning basket in the final seconds.

The Flyers came back to cop the second game, 51-41, as Shook sank the longest goal of the game — a 35-footer.

The finale was a thriller from start to finish. The Jackets came from behind to build up a five-point lead in the last three minutes but with 15 seconds remaining and the Bees leading 42-40, the Flyers stole the ball and Shook split the strings with a fielder to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

George Romano took over in the extra period, scoring seven straight points, to put the decision and the title out of reach of the Jackets.

Shook wound up the season with the fourth best scoring average in the league, 10.58 points per game. The local youth is a cousin of Gary Shook, the little sharpshooting Allegheny High Junior who captured the city, WML League and CVA League scoring titles this season.

Dion attended Allegheny High but got most of his basketball experience, prior to entering the Air Force in January, 1957, on the playground of Centre Street School.

Shook, who is about four inches taller than cousin Gary, has a brother, Freddie, playing on the Allegheny junior varsity.

District 1 Tourney Opens Here Tonight

Two State Champions To Defend Cage Titles

By JIM DAY

Times Scholarships Sports Editor

Eight of the ten qualifying quints, including a pair of state champions and one undefeated club, will see action in the District 1 tournament this afternoon and tonight at Fort Hill High School.

Frederick High, winner of its first state Class A title last year, and Valley of Lonaconing, retaining its State Class B honors last March, are listed for play tonight. Walkersville with the only all-winning record in the field, had a date this afternoon against Oldtown at 3:30 in Class "C."

Tonight's three-game card has Clear Spring of Washington County opposing Southern of Garrett County at 6 o'clock in Class B while Valley meets Brunswick of Frederick County in the 7:30 Class B semi-final.

Sentinel's Play Cadets

The big clash comes at 9 o'clock when Fort Hill's titanic Sentinel's go up against Frederick in the Class A semi-final. North Hagerstown, Washington County titlist, drew this year's bye and takes on the winner tomorrow in the finals.

Hancock, victor in the "C" tourney last year when it was staged at South Hagerstown, also drew a first-round bye and meets the winner of this afternoon's contest tomorrow in the finals.

The "A" field is one of the strongest ever in District 1. The Sentinels (16-5), making their first bid for state honors since 1951, have already taken three titles outright (WML, CVAL and County) while sharing city honors with LaSalle. The Red Raiders are rated eighth in the Washington Post rankings of the past Monday and held the only victory over LaSalle — a 55-54 triumph.

Frederick, runnerup to the Sentinels in the CVAL and the de-throned champion, carries a record of 14 wins and four defeats against the locals. The clubs met twice during the CVAL race and split with Frederick taking the opener, 48-42, and then being beaten, 59-53, here. The Cadets of coach Homer Brooks are 17th in the Washington rankings.

North Hagerstown, disposing of South's Rebels for the Washington County laurels, has also split with the Sentinels and Frederick while compiling a 16-5 log. Coach Mel Henry's charges, with the best defensive average in the area of only 45.2 points a game, last reigned as state champs in 1952.

Knights Face Brunswick

Valley's cagers, who have been making it an annual habit of taking "B" honors, will be going for their 15th victory this season in 21 attempts when facing Brunswick. The Black Knights, who have held the state crown the past two seasons, also have a five-game win streak, their last loss being to Fort Hill, 58-40.

The Knights scored a sweep in bagging the County title with a pair of wins over both Bruce of Westernport and Mt. Savage. The Detmolders have never opposed Brunswick in tournament play.

Clear Spring (12-7) and Southern of Oakland (11-8) also clash for the first time in the other "B" semi-final. The Highlanders had to go three games before eliminating arch-rival and last year's champion Northern of Accident to bag Garrett County laurels. Clear Spring had little trouble coming in as the champ of Washington County.

Oldtown, coached by Ronnie Kellogg, was to make its first tourney start this afternoon. The Indians, in only their third season of basketball, eliminated Flintstone in snaring the County "C" crown. For the year, the Kelloggmen won seven and lost a dozen.

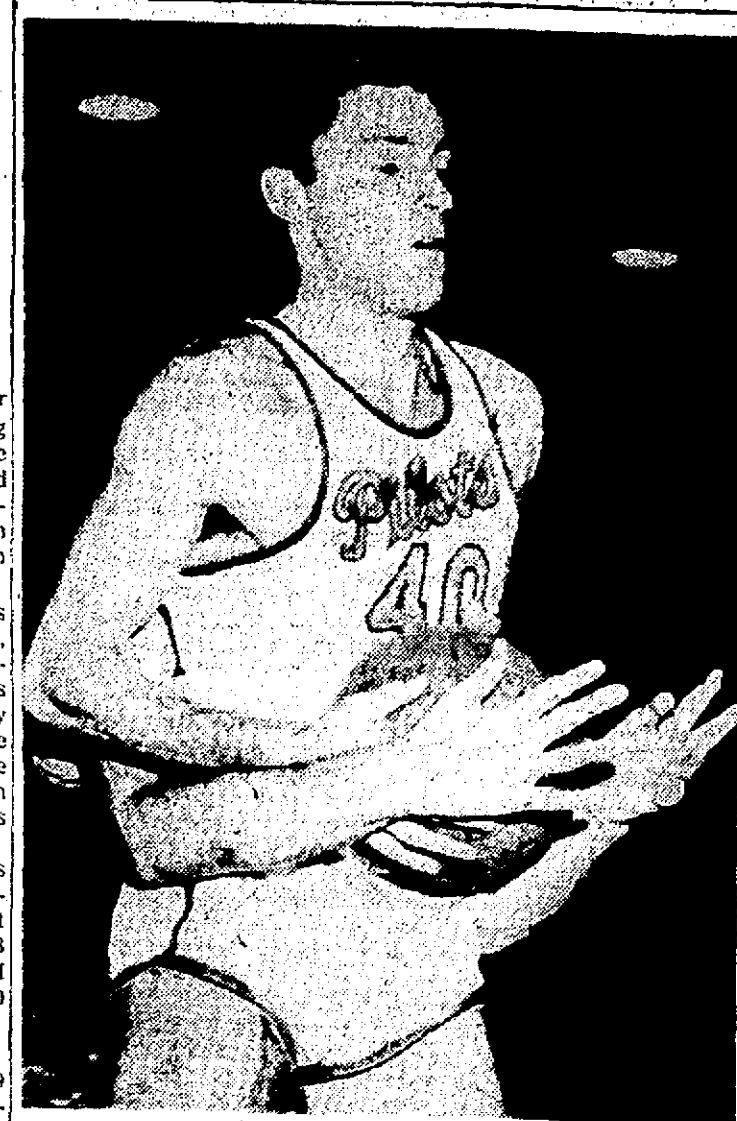

Walkersville, one of the three undefeated quints in the state, was gunning for its 19th victory in the tourney opener. Coach Bill Talley's cagers won the Frederick County League title with an 11-0 mark and were listed 10th in the area rankings.

The winner of the afternoon tilt will meet Hancock tomorrow night to open the finals at 6 o'clock. Coach Bob Walford's dribblers, when won the District 1 last winter and lost in a special playoff to Laurel, 62-60 in overtime, last winter, closed out their most successful season by winning 15 and losing six. The Washington County cagers took 11 of their last 12 games.

State Drawings Set

Drawings have been made for the state tourney which will be staged next weekend at the University of Maryland.

Play opens Friday afternoon with a Class "C" semi-final having Fritz Showers of the Loyal Order of Moose dumped in 36 tallies. . . . No one will ever match Senja Henie's fabulous record of ten straight world figure-skating championships, says the new queen of the ice, 18-year-old Carol Heiss. . . . Colt To Grapple In Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN — Eight well-known heavyweights, including a member of the Baltimore Colts football team, will appear on Monday night's show at the State Armory when professional wrestling returns to this city.

In the opening match, slated for 8:30 p. m., Don Joyce, a rugged 235-pound defensive star for the Colts, will make his debut in Hagerstown when he tangles with Hugo Brown in a one-fall scrap with a 30-minute time limit.

The feature bout will send John Tolos of Hamilton, Canada, against Bolo Hakawa, Honolulu, in a best two-out-of-three fall event with a 60-minute limit.

Cocher Dies After Playing In Cage Game

PITTSBURGH — Robert Hast, 42, head football coach at suburban Scott Twp. High School, collapsed and died of a heart attack last night shortly after playing in a faculty basketball game.

Hast, the father of three, played football for Duquesne and Columbia universities and coached at Bridgeville and North Catholic High in Pittsburgh before assuming the Scott position.

IN Carmen Basilio's first Madison Square Garden appearance he broke his hand in 1950 against Vic Cardelli.

Bowie Lists Venomous As 'Cap Choice

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — B.A. Dario's Venomous will try to keep up the tradition of winning her first race of the season in tomorrow's $25,000 Barbara Frietsch Handicap at Bowie track.

Rated by some as the fleetest mare in the nation, Venomous will run against a probable field of 11 other fillies and mares in the six furlong test.

Venomous will be taking top weight of 122 pounds while giving way 13 pounds to Movitave, a highly regarded threat from Krollwood Stable. Movitave, three-year-old winner of the Miss Maryland Stakes in her only start this year, has won six and run second twice in her last eight starts.

Venomous won five of nine races last year including the Colonial and Interborough Handicaps. Also coming in for considerable reckoning in the betting will be Lucie Manette, to be ridden by Bowie's leading rider of the meeting, Joe Culmone. The McGurck Stable five-year-old, who closed out her 1957 campaign with a 12-length victory in the Ridge Classified Handicap at Jamaica, will carry 113 pounds in her first 1958 start.

Among other starters will be Hy-Lynn Stable's Our Secret, with only an 108-pound impost. The mare will get her sternest test since being operated on nearly a year ago for removal of clipped sesamoids in both front legs.

Trainer Charles Dewald said Our Secret came out of the opening day Early Bird purse one month ago in good shape. She ran sixth in that one.

Region 4-B Tourney Semi-Finals Tonight

Three of the tri-state area's highly-rated high school basketball quints are in the four-team field of Region 4-B semi-finals tonight at Shepherd College in Shepherdstown.

Leading the field for a berth in next week's Area rounds is twice-beaten Piedmont, while once-beaten Hedgesville is the defending-champion and up-a 10.2 effort.

Piedmont takes on Mathias tonight in the first game at 7:30, while Paw Paw opposes Hedgesville in the nightcap at 8:45. The Lions were placed 18th in this week's Washington Post ratings while Hedgesville holds down 23rd place and Paw Paw is two notches behind in 25th.

Piedmont, now 21-2, won Section 15-B last weekend while Hedgesville (14-1) repeated the third straight year as king of Section 13-B. Paw Paw (18-4) snared its first Section 14-B crown in history and Mathias (9-13) surprised by taking over the Region 15-B over Moorefield and Circleville.

The Lions' victory total in the Class-A rated followed by southpaws Ken LeKeyser and Petersburg. The Potomac Valley Conference and Mineral County League champs bowed only to Maryland State Class B champion Valley (53-46) year.

Joe "Goose" Taylor paces coach "Huck" Miers' quint and averaged 20.3 in the PVC for 14 games. Mathias and the Lions did not face each other during the season.

Tight Ratings Predict Close Tourney Play

By Dunkel Research Service

Tightening ratings among college basketball's Big Four forebode one of the finest NCAA tournaments in years.

After this weekend's results are in, there may be little to choose between Cincinnati, Temple, Kansas State, and West Virginia, providing the latter survives the current Southern Conference tournament.

Add Tone And Jeopardy

And that's not all. When the big classic starts next Tuesday, there will also be No. 5 Notre Dame, No. 9 Seattle, No. 15 Kentucky and No. 16 San Francisco plus high-ranking representatives of ACC, PCC and Big Ten to add tone and jeopardy to the proceedings.

Cincinnati, Power Index leader during most of the season, has let its rating slip slightly in recent games. The Bearcats were down to 82.5, from a previous high of 84.3, through last Monday. Tomorrow night they'll close out the regular season against NIT-bound Xavier and must beat the Muskies by 19 points in order to maintain their present Power Index. No simple task.

Red hot No. 2 Temple, riding a 21 game winning streak, has pushed its rating up to 78.8, and the Owls have a chance to spring higher in this weekend's annual Philadelphia Big Five play-off.

WYU Can Move Up

No. 3 West Virginia (77.4) can move up if the Mountaineers can take three fat decisions in the present SC tournament.

No. 4 Kansas State dropped to 76.9 after losing to Nebraska last Monday. But the Wildcats, who tangle with Cincinnati in next Friday's NCAA play, have an excellent chance to increase their Power Index tomorrow night against Kansas (75.8). A win by more than one point will advance them accordingly.

Meanwhile, Wheaton starts defense of its NCAA College Division title in tonight's opening round. The Crusaders easily dominated the field again, with a 67.4 rating, and have drawn St. Norbert's (45.5) as a starting opponent.

Other top raters, who are expected to prevail in district play-offs to get to quarter-finals in Evansville next Wednesday, are South Dakota, 62.1; Akron, 60.5; S.W. Mo. State 60.2; Grambling, La., 60.3; and either Fresno State, 63.9 or San Diego State, 57.9, whichever enters. Evansville's Aces (59.9), in whose home town final rounds will be played, must also be counted as a favorite.

NAIA Starts Monday

The rival NAIA tournament for small colleges will launch its 32-team field in Kansas City on Monday. Starters will be listed at that time.

And New York's NIT, oldest of them all, which starts Wednesday and has again marshalled a fine field led by No. 8 Bradley (74.8) and No. 11 Dayton (73.8) will be covered then, too.

The following explanation of how Cincinnati's rating is figured illustrates how every team sets its own Power Index without anyone's guesswork: The Bearcats, through Mar. 3, had established a net scoring superiority of 22.0 points per game over opposition self-indexed at 60.5 for a total rating of 82.5.

In the following Power Index national rankings, through Mar. 3, known or fairly certain tournament entries are identified by these symbols: A (big NCAA); B (NIT); C (little NCAA); D (NAIA).

The Associated Press

For some reason the caliber of major league first basemen seems to have deteriorated in the past couple of decades.

That's not a knock at such players as Stan Musial of St. Louis, Gil Hodges of Los Angeles, Joe Adcock of Milwaukee or Bill Skowron of New York.

It's just that baseball fans in the mid 1930s could point to such crackerjacks as Jimmy Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg, Bill Terry, Johnny Mize, Phil Cavarretta, Hal Trosky and Joe Kuhel.

Ted Says He'll Be Ready

When Ted Kluszewski stepped down to rest an ailing back last season it further diminished the first-base ranks.

Now Kluszewski says he'll be ready soon. And with hard-hitting youngsters Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants, Ron Jackson of the Chicago White Sox and Marv Throneberry of the Yankees all battling for big league jobs in spring training, the pendulum may swing the other way.

Kluszewski, traded from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh during the winter, said: "I've felt good so far, I have started to put a little more into my swing down in the batting cage and I should be ready to go in a couple more weeks."

Lifetime Mark .302

The Pirates can use Kluszewski's power. The game's celebrated muscle man has hit 251 homers in 11 seasons and shows a lifetime batting average of .302.

Cepeda and Harry Simpson, a part-time first baseman for the Yankees last season, also warmed up effectively for the opening of Saturday's exhibition schedule.

Thomas' Bat Exploding In Pirate Camp

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Reno Bertola may finally be emerging from the Detroit Tiger doghouse. One sign he is coming out with a bang showed after yesterday's intra-squad game.

"You know what I liked most about this game?" Manager Jack Tighe asked. "The thing I liked most was the way Bertola played third base. Did you see him charge that ground ball and hit it on the half-volley and throw out Kuehn? That's something he hasn't done in two years."

Even while Reno was leading the American League for a short time in hitting last season, Tighe complained he would not charge a ground ball. Apparently that put Reno in the Tiger dog house.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Pete Runnels will be at first base and Billy Conzolo at shortstop tomorrow for the Boston Red Sox when they open the Grapefruit League season against Pittsburgh.

Manager Mike Higgins announced the lineup for the Sox, which also includes Ken Aspromonte at second, Gene Stephens in right field, Bill Renna in left, Frank Malzone at third, Jimmy Piersall in center field and Haywood Sullivan behind the plate. The pitchers will be Bob Porterfield, George Susce and Leo Kiley.

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Versatile Frank Thomas, the backbone of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the past few years, is getting off to a fast start this spring.

The 27-year-old native Pittsburgher is leading the Pirates with 14 hits, including two homers in intra-squad games.

Last season Thomas hit 23 homers and batted .290 while shifting from the outfield to third base and, at times, to first.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—For the first time since playing with the Giants, Willie Mays won't be in the lineup for the opening game of the spring exhibition season.

The star of the San Francisco team suffers from a heavy cold and won't make the trip to Tucson with the club for Saturday's game with Cleveland.

Willie said yesterday he felt better but is still weak. He hasn't worked out since Monday. Also ill is rookie outfielder Willie Kirkland. Saturday's exhibition schedule:

Chicago (N) vs. Baltimore (A) at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Cincinnati (N) vs. Chicago (A) at Tampa, Fla.

Los Angeles (N) vs. Philadelphia (N) at Miami (night).

Milwaukee (N) vs. Detroit (A) at Lakeland, Fla.

Pittsburgh (N) vs. Boston (A) at Sarasota, Fla.

St. Louis (N) vs. New York (A) at St. Petersburg, Fla.

San Francisco (N) vs. Cleveland (A) at Tucson, Ariz.

Washington (A) vs. Kansas City (A) at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Whole School Plays On Indus Ice Team

INDUS, Minn. (AP)—There aren't any boy students in the rooting section when Indus High School plays hockey.

All 31 boys in the school are on the team.

The girls also have a team of their own and play the freshman squad once or twice a season.

LOS ANGELES—Davey Moore, 127, Springfield, Ohio, knocked out Vince Delgado, 127, Los Angeles, 3.

PITTSBURGH—Alonso Johnson, 182, Bradock, Pa., stopped Calvin Butler, 190, Cleveland, 8.

West Virginia Aims For Finals Tonight

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—It's bench against bench and iron men against iron men here tonight in the semifinals of the Southern Conference's 38th championship basketball tournament.

West Virginia and Richmond, the clubs with most strength in reserve, tangle in the first semi-finals match at 7:30 p. m. George Washington and William & Mary, the teams with least in reserve, meet at 9:30.

These were the four survivors of yesterday's first-round firing in the Richmond Arena and only the success of darkhorse William & Mary was a surprise. The Indians, in the last opening-round skirmish, clouted Virginia Tech 79-61.

Earlier, magnificent West Virginia had notched its 34th consecutive victory by trouncing Davidson 91-61. Richmond had nudged The Citadel 63-59 and George Washington had bounced Furman 73-59.

Tonight's semifinals antagonists know each other very well. West Virginia whipped Richmond twice during the regular season, needing an overtime session to get by the Spiders 76-74 in December but scoring a much more decisive 72-60 victory at the Arena last month. George Washington and W&M split even in two meetings, W&M taking the first 71-60 and George Washington the second 91-80.

West Virginia shot 49 per cent and had a 44-27 edge in rebounds over spunky Davidson but got nearly half its points—43 all told—from reserves before finally putting the Wildcats to rout. The Mountaineers' grand total of 91 points was just six shy of the tournament record of 97.

Freshman Helps Spiders

Richmond got an early spree from freshman Red Booker and a late one from freshman Terry Litchfield in standing off The Citadel. Booker collected 12 of his 18 points, tops for the Spiders, in the first half when Richmond forged a 31-25 lead. In the second half, after The Citadel closed to a 41-39 lead, Litchfield sank four consecutive push shots from the corner to bail the Spiders out of danger. Ray Graves had 21 points for The Citadel.

George Washington, using only seven players, looked the very picture of a team that could give West Virginia all kinds of trouble en route to its victory over fast-moving Furman.

The Colonials, led by Bucky McDonald (20 points) and Bill Telaskey (24), shot a sizzling 53 per cent in the first half for a 10-point lead.

William & Mary trailed Virginia Tech 18-17 at halftime but pulled out of a 37-37 tie after four minutes of the second half and with All-Souther Roy Lange getting 18 of his 24 points after intermission, gave the Techmen a solid licking. Tech had won two regular-season meetings with W&M.

Psychiatric Care Slated For Bouchee

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Baseball star Ed Bouchee, placed on probation for three years yesterday on an indecent exposure involving minor girls, will enter the Institute of Living in Hartford, Conn., for psychiatric treatment at the expense of the Philadelphia Phillies.

There were indications Bouchee, who is 25 today, would be given another chance at professional baseball if he is cured of what a psychiatrist told the court was "compulsive exhibitionism."

The Philadelphia ball club, which hired an extra lawyer for Bouchee here and arranged for his continued psychiatric treatment, still had no official comment on his future.

"Let him get well before we start thinking about his playing baseball," said Bob Carpenter, president of the Phillies.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said he wished Bouchee "all the luck in the world" in seeking a cure.

Bouchee, whose wife is expecting a second child, will fly to Philadelphia today or tomorrow and go on to the clinic from there.

He pleaded guilty to his arraignment last month to two charges of indecent exposure, involving girls 6 and 10. He had admitted to police that he enticed the girls into his station wagon, showed them indecent pictures and exposed himself.

FIGHTER 'Spider' Webb Fought In Olympics

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Midweight boxer Spider Webb of Chicago once was a collegiate boxer on the Idaho State College squad. He later went to the Olympics.

Maryland, Duke Meet Tonight In Semi-Finals

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—There will be no upsets in the 1958 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament. The top four teams, who've been chopping each other up all year, are still at it.

Duke, top-seeded and No. 6 nationally, opens tonight's semifinals program at 7:30 against Maryland.

North Carolina's defending conference and NCAA champions meet North Carolina State in the second game. All four clubs rank in the nation's top

Martin Seen By Tighe As 'Tiger Tonic'

Another in a series written by major league managers

By JACK TIGHE

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—I think the Tigers have strengthened some over last season but may not do some of the things I did last summer.

Our trade with Kansas City gave us some reserve strength, a couple of experienced pitchers and a catcher who may be a sleeper. Billy Martin, the big man in the deal, is an asset to any club and can help in so many ways. Gus Zernial, if he doesn't play every day, certainly isn't bad as a replacement. And so is Lou Skizas. They certainly are improvements over what we had last season.

Fourth In Fielding Our biggest weakness last season was second line pitching and infield defense. We were fourth in the league in fielding but were next to last in chances accepted. Defensive speed is so important and we lacked it. We believe we've helped our speed over the winter. Martin is bound to help. So many people say he can't play shortstop. There is no reason to think he can't. He played it against us the last three games of the season and did very well.

Martin will help us in more ways than just with the bat and glove. Reno Bertoia needs help and so does Frank Bolling. This fellow Martin, whether anyone likes him or not, certainly is a leader in that infield. I would like to add an experienced catcher but they are hard to find. We need a good defensive first baseman to back up Ray Boone so we can rest Boone a bit more. Pitching will be one of our strongest points but another fairly solid relief man would be most welcome.

Bunning May Be Better Frank Lary and Billy Hoelt should certainly improve on their 1957 record. I think everyone will agree that Jim Bunning is no flash in the pan. He is a real fine pitcher and may do even better than his 20 victories of last year. Paul Foytack has as much potential as anyone. With a better defense and a smile from lady luck this quartet could do very well.

Tom Morgan, whom we got from Kansas City, should help. Maury McDermott, the other pitcher we got from Kansas City, can still throw well and can swing a bat. We needed another left-handed pitcher badly last season. We have a young kid named Bob Shaw, who looks like a real comer. Another fine looking youngster is Jim Slump.

Red Wilson and Tim Thompson, from Kansas City, will do most of the catching. With a chance to play regularly, Thompson should do as well as did Frank House, who went to the A's. Bill Taylor, acquired from Minneapolis, will help our bench as a pinch hitter. We have some pinch hitters now who can at least cause a pitcher to take a second look at them when they walk up there.

Right now I don't know where Harvey Kuenn will play. He may be back at shortstop or he may be in right field. If Kuenn is switched to the outfield, Al Kaline will be shifted to center and, of course, Charley Maxwell will remain in left. That would not be a bad outfield at that.

As I said before, we have a chance for the pennant. Last season our hitters all slacked off at once. They have shown they can hit and if they all perk up at the same time someone might have to chase us. We have six pretty good pitchers, satisfactory hitting and a better defense. We will, however, have to get a lot out of our catchers.

Yankees Boast Five Series-Wise Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, who have been in nine of the last 11 World Series, have five series-wise veterans in Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford.

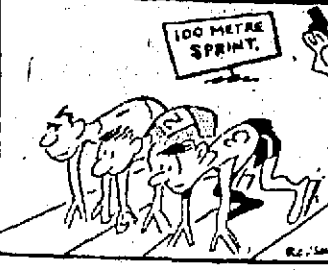

Berra has been in nine World Series with the Yankees and the 54 games in which he has appeared constitutes a record. Bauer has been in eight World Series in his nine years with the Yankees and has hit safely in his last 14 Series games. McDougald has played in six series in seven years and both Ford and Mantle have been in five series in six seasons. Ford leads active players in World Series victories with five.

Jack Prater Named To VPI Grid Staff

BLACKSBURG, Va.—Jack Prater, Virginia Tech's All-Conference center in 1955, has been named assistant line coach for the Gobblers. Frank Mosley, athletic director and head football coach announces.

Prater, 27, a native of Miami, Fla., served as defensive line coach for Miami Edison High School's undefeated 1957 team.

Old Exports, Moose Win In Final Games

Old Exports were extended by Forty & Eight before bowing 72-66, last night in the City Basketball League at the Fort Hill court while Moose had an easier time in disposing of Chaney's Transportation, 80-63.

Both winners concluded their campaigns with Moose bagging eight of ten starts to finish second behind second-half champ Old Germans. Old Exports were third with a 7-3 log. Old Germans and Moose, first-half champs, open the best-of-three playoff for the season title Monday, 8:30 p. m., at Fort Hill.

Second Game Wednesday

The second game in the series will be Wednesday at Fort Hill instead of the Carver court as originally scheduled. Exports, playing without three regulars, went in front to stay 51-49, at the third quarter after trailing the Boxer Society cagers, 14-11 and 34-24, at the quarters. "Buck" Smith's goal with five seconds left in the third stanza gave the Brewers the edge.

Bob Pence hooped 26 points for the winners while Buck Smith tossed in 19. Bill Day and Dave Rittler had 18 and 15 for the losers.

Showers Scoring Leader

Fritz Showers won scoring honors by ramming home 30 markers for Moose to finish with 519 tallies and a 25.9 average in 20 games. But it took a goal by Ronnie Cage with 2:20 remaining in the first half to give Moose a lead it never relinquished over Chaney's cagers who had been on top, 19-11, at the first quarter. Center Donnie Madden was runnerup to Showers with 30 points while Willard Abe marked up 19 for the losers.

Keyser, Martinsburg Enter Class A Semi-Finals Tonight

Keyser and Martinsburg, tourney co-favorites, reached the semi-finals of the Section 6-A West Virginia high school basketball tourney last night at Petersburg by eliminating Romney and Petersburg.

The Golden Tornado tangle with Charles Town tonight in the lidifier at 7:15 while the Bulldogs go against Franklin at 8:45. Finals will be staged tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Pioneers' Streak Ends

A capacity crowd of 1,200 witnessed last night's pair of games which saw the end of Romney's eight-game victory streak in a clash that was close for three quarters. Martinsburg had little trouble in rapping the host Vikings, scoring 32 field goals for the 29-point triumph.

The Keyser crew and Bulldogs will be favored to go all the way to tomorrow's finals. Keyser did not meet Charles Town during the regular season and Martinsburg and the Panthers didn't have each other scheduled this winter.

Coach John Shelton's quint, the defending champion, made its record 16-6 with its third victory over Romney in three meetings this campaign. The Pioneers, who had finished with a victory spurt, had lost the regular-season games, 52-47 and 70-63. Martinsburg is now 13-8 for the year.

Keyser, with three cagers hitting in double figures, held high-scoring sophomore Bill Mapis to only 18 tallies and won with a 34-point outburst in the last two quarters. Until then the winners had only a 19-12 and 32-29 edge at the quarters. They shot in front, 47-36, at the third-period whistle.

Gary Keedy and Scott Brown hooped 17 and 14 counters for Keyser with Kay Hollingsworth dumping in a dozen. Mapis led the Pioneers, who wound up with 18 tallies.

Yardley Tops Mikan's Mark

By The Associated Press George Yardley was the dinner guest of George Mikan last night in a friendly prelude to the breaking of a record.

A few hours later Yardley, the scoring ace of the Detroit Pistons, pumped in 49 points and broke the 7-year-old National Basketball Assn. scoring record set by Mikan, former star of the Minneapolis Lakers.

Yardley's 49 points in the Pistons' 132-116 triumph over the Lakers brought his season's total to 1,953. Mikan's record, set in the 1950-51 season, was 1,932 points.

With two games remaining, Yardley is within shooting distance of 2,000 points. He needs 47 points — an average of 23 1/2 per game — to make 2,000. His season average for 70 games is 27.9 points per game.

Cincinnati's tight 110-108 triumph over Philadelphia in the only other NBA game last night came on the work of Clyde Lovellette and Jack Twyman who combined for 61 points. Lovellette pumped in 37 points and Twyman scored 24.

Y'Church Quints Finish Tomorrow

The season ends in the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League tomorrow with the possibility still existing that two playoffs will be needed to decide positions in the quarter-finals.

St. Luke's Lutheran and McKendree Methodist wind up tomorrow and if both win they will clash Monday, 8 p. m., at the "Y" to determine the victor in the first flight. St. Luke's meets LaVale Methodist on the Allegheny court at 1:45 while McKendree opposes Alacabees at 2:40.

Grace Methodist and First Baptist could tie for eighth place in the same flight. If both win of lose in games against Kingsley Methodist and First EUB they will have a playoff Monday, 6:45 p. m., at the "Y."

Playoffs will start next Tuesday. Tomorrow's schedule:

FEATHERWEIGHTS TANGLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK (INS)—Harold Gomes, a Sanitation Department worker from Providence, R. I., makes his Madison Square Garden debut tonight in a nationally televised (NBC) fight with fifth-ranking featherweight Ike Chestnut of New York. The bout will start at 10 p. m.

Delany May Pull All Stops In K of C Mile Tomorrow

NEW YORK (INS)—Ronald (The Reluctant) Delany, undefeated king of the world's indoor milers, may pull out the stops in the Knights of Columbus Games tomorrow night when he holds court for the last time in Madison Square Garden as a Villanova runner.

The Villanova senior from Ireland, who owns half of the ten fastest times ever recorded on boards but refuses to run against the clock, will close the winter track and field season in New York by going for his 27th straight indoor victory and 22d mile.

The lanky Olympic 1,500-meter champion has lost his chief rival, Istvan Rozsavolgyi, who has returned to Hungary, but all the other runners who have helped Delany set three meet records this winter will try to prevent Ron from clinching his third straight Frank A. Brennan Columbian Mile.

They are George King of the NYAC, who won the Metropolitan AAU and Washington Star miles; Jim Beatty of Fort Jackson, S. C.; Maryland's Burr Grim, who won the Atlantic Coast Conference mile and two-mile in record times last Saturday; and Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track Club.

Delany, who four times this season has run faster than 4:07.1, holds a world monopoly on jet-propelled indoor miles. His five fastest times are 4:03.7, 4:04.6, 4:05 and 4:05.3 this winter plus a 4:03.8 in Chicago last year.

Wes Santee holds four of the top ten miles, including his fastest time of 4:03.8. The others are Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark, with his indoor record 4:03.6; and Dadds, with his 4:05.3, the indoor record ten years ago.

Boxer Rex Layne Turns To Grappling

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Former heavyweight boxer Rex Layne recently made his debut here as a professional wrestler.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, March 8, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Your star is not in an especially favorable position, which means that you must be extra careful of displays of temper, or other emotional outbursts, for a more work at trade or profession.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Home matters, things related to family and personal comfort, are amenable for selling things wanted by the public, for restaurants, hotels and children's affairs. Hard labor is favored.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Will be profitable to work amicably with family and those you should. Day has advantages and fresh opportunities. Look for them and use wisely. You don't have to be creative always.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Auspicious influences from your Moon, from Jupiter and Saturn, spelling a beneficial day all told. However, sensible ways is stressed. Such promotion, unusual favors from superiors, directly.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Don't be over-ambitious or feel special privileges from superiors, those in authority. Go along in a neutral, genial, likable way; be cooperative, thoughtful, considerate of all.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Don't be over-sensitive or anxious to do too much and then tire. When you should be fresh and rested for family or worthy social affairs. Keep up with essential duties, mix in pleasure where proper.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Venus stresses your best personal behavior, as not to slip up on where and where you need opportunity and associates' cooperation. Often it is up to us if we fail to get this cooperation. You can do it.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Mars' influence all now, but Saturn is well aspected together with other planets. Be discerning, alert to right action in right activities. Hold firm to principles, sane promises.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Grand Jupiter rays. This could mean a constructive, creative day for your interests, for achievement in truly worthwhile things. Creative government matters can flourish with your help.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn)—Saturn, your special planet, in excellent position. Day lends strength to purposeful ideas and proposals, should give you initiative, serve too see your plans through to profitable ends.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 23 (Aquarius)—Uranus today urges steady thought and action and no needless revisions from things running smoothly. Actually, make due time for relaxation, a hobby, healthy play with family.

FEBRUARY 24 to MARCH 23 (Pisces)—Don't be blind to subtle hints, warnings to avoid damage to things of value. Taboo carelessness in handling chemicals, new scientific products, medicines. Enjoy healthy recreation.

YOU BORN TODAY are versatile, likable and of sterling character. If, of course, you are living true to your God-given traits and correcting faults. Inactivity, procrastination, lack of faith in self are possible faults—all of which you can correct. Be quick to recognize possible advantages and pick them up. Don't deviate from well-planned ideas and schedules. Give a proposition time to prove its value. Discuss, confer often with those qualified to advise. We all can learn constancy. Places is strong in philosophy, patience, honor.

Jacoby On Bridge

Bridge Odds Are Simplified Math

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There would be nothing to write about if this were a rubber bridge hand. South would win the opening heart lead and take nine tricks off the top.

The game was match point duplicate and South noted that four spades was a very logical contract. He also noted that at four spades the chances were that declarer would make four—odd so that while three no-trump bid and made would be a nice rubber bridge score it wouldn't be worth a barrel of spoiled apples in duplicate.

After these considerations South decided that it was up to him to make four no-trump. There were two ways to do this. One would be to play West for both diamond honors but a better way would be to play him for the queen of clubs.

South now led the deuce of clubs from his own hand. It did not matter what West did. Actu-

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♠	1♥	1♠	Pass
1NT	Pass	3♠	Pass
2NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥5

ally he ducked and South grabbed dummy's jack of clubs and proceeded to run out 10 tricks for a top score.

Why was the club play better than the diamond play? South only had to find one card right for the club play to win but he had to find two cards right for the diamond play to work.

Q—You, South, hold:
♠A 8 6 5 ♦A K 8 7 6 ♣K 8 7 4
What do you do?
A—Bid five clubs. If your partner can take the second heart lead he should go on to six clubs. Otherwise, you want to be in game.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues with a bid of five hearts. What do you do now?
